SCHOOL NOONTIME PAY IS 'ILLEGAL'

At Least Five Marin Districts Using Funds Marked For Recreation Purposes

By FRED WYATT

At least five Marin school districts pay for noontime supervision of pupils from community recreation program tax funds despite two county counsel opinions in the past five years, that this is illegal, it was learned today.

The fact came to light in a survey of school districts following an opinion yesterday by State Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk that the funds, also known as community resource or civic center funds, may not be so used.

"The ruling concurs with the administrative interpretation of the State Department of Education that salaries paid to personnel performing noon-hour yard duty shall be classified as instructional costs and that their salaries should come from school rather than community recreation funds," said Mosk's ruling.

An Independent-Journal survey disclosed San Jose, Fairfax, San Anselmo and Novato School Districts pay the noon time supervisors out of the recreation funds. So also does Reed District, at one school, Belvedere. Three other Reed District schools have teachers do the noon supervision. At Tiburon School a parent volunteers services without pay. Parents serve in Sausalito at no pay.

Dixie, Mill Valley and Kentfield Districts have outside supervisors for the noon hour, but pay them from school operating tax funds, as specified by Mosk. Other districts have teachers do the job.

Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson said Mill Valley district had paid supervisors from operating funds since receiving an opinion in 1959 from then Asst. County Counsel E. Warren McGuire that recreation tax funds should not be used. "We asked for the opinion because county counsels across the state held differing opinions," said Edson.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said that as assistant counsel under McGuire on May 8, 1961, he issued an opinion for the Novato District, holding the supervision might not properly be charged to recreation tax funds.

Mosk said request for interpretation came from Assemblyman Edward E. Elliott of Los Angeles. The opinion was prepared by Dep. Atty. Gen. Richard L. Mayers of Los Angeles.

Young Space Scientists To Fire Rockets

Two young space scientists will sail from Sausalito tomorrow to launch a pair of rockets from a helium-filled balloon.

Dave Guidici, 21, and Kelly MacDonald, 20, both of El Cerrito, started working on rocket research four years ago at El Cerrito High School. Their latest is "Project Epsilon," in which they hope to launch two rockets from the balloon 100,000 feet a bove the earth.

As launching platform they'll use the Vivica, a schooner owned by Mel Petersen of Sausalito, which is tied up at the Trident.

Three other boats will accompany the Vivica to some place out in the Pacific, where the youths will send the balloon aloft.

When it reaches top altitude, it is to fire a finless rocket, also a finned rocket on a parallel path, and set movie cameras whizzing to record the travels of both. When the film runs out, the cameras are to be dropped by parachute into the ocean, where they will release red dye to help in their recovery. Fall of the cameras will be traced by radio.

The object, according to young Guidici, is to see whether finned or finless rocket will be better for the project toward which he and young MacDonald have been working all this time: "Project Searcher," in which they hope to send a 1,900-pound solid-fuel rocket aloft from a Pacific island next August into polar orbit. The project is being financed by public subscription.

No tyros, Guidici and MacDonald have successfully fired rockets up to 90 miles into space.

Jury Rules $101,200 In Condemnation

A Marin Superior Court jury last night ruled $101,200 will be paid by the California Division of Highways in its condemnation of about one-quarter acre of land in San Rafael owned by B and T Construction Co., San Anselmo.

The verdidct, reached after 11 hours deliberation, was for $84,000 for the property and improvements, and $17,200 for damages to remaining property by reason of severance of the condemned land.

The state's highest figure given in testimony was $90,300 total. Highest for the construction company was $172,000.

The land is roughly bordered by Myrtle, Tamalpais and Lincoln avenues. Two 12-unit apartment buildings were being constructed there when the suit was filed to obtain the land for highway widening Work was then halted shortly after last Aug. 1.

Main attorney for the construction firm was Julius H. Selinger, San Rafael. Harry C. Miller, San Francisco attorney, led the state's case.

Hearing of the suit started Feb. 18 before Judge N. Charles Brusatori.

Train Case Arrest

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP)—The FBI announced the arrest today of Hugh Winn, 56, of Miami, on charges of conspiring in an attempt to derail a Florida East Coast Railway train March 12.

Rep. Clausen, McCabe File At Courthouse

Friday the 13th did not faze Rep. Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) or George E. McCabe of Santa Rosa, one of the two Democrats who is trying to unseat Clausen.

The two men blew into San Rafael this morning to file their candidacy papers with County Clerk George H. Gnoss.

A delegation of about 20 Republican leaders from Marin and Sonoma counties greeted Clausen at the San Rafael courthouse at 9 a.m. Gerald E. Misner, chairman of the Republican Central Committee in Marin, and Dr. Dudley Moore, chairman in Sonoma County, headed the group of well-wishers for Clausen.

Congressman Clausen then caught an airplane at Novato for flights to Santa Rosa, Napa, Ukiah, Eureka and Crescent City.

McCabe, who is battling for the Democratic nomination against Merle P. Orchard of Ukiah, filed his papers about 11 a.m. Whoever wins in the June 2 primary will face Clausen in November.

Congressman Clausen issued a statement announcing he would continue to "serve all of the people by helping to preserve the American way of life."

"To me, this means the greatest amount of freedom, the least amount of government control and a minimum of taxation allocated properly to perform the greatest service to the people," Clausen said.

"To me, this means help to those who are incapable, incentives to those who are capable and encouragement to those who pace our economy by creating jobs and risking their effort and fortunes."

Internationally, Clausen called for "a bold declaration of national policy to win the cold war."

Nuclear Tests Set Off At Nevada Site

Ruby Predicts His Acquittal; Jury's Verdict To Be On TV

DALLAS (UPI) — Jack Ruby, in the closing moments of his murder trial today, predicted he would be acquitted. He will learn whether he lives, dies or goes scott free before the eyes of the millions who watched him shoot Lee Harvey Oswald.

As the television climax neared, the haggard, tense slayer of the accused assassin said "yes" when a newsman asked him if he expected to be freed.

The historic trial will go to its Friday the 13th date with the jury tonight, after the judge issues his instructions to the eight men and four women.

Judge Joe B. Brown suddenly announced that the verdict would be televised when the jury returns it. One television camera will record it live.

Judges in Texas have authority to allow or bar cameras and microphones as they see fit. Until today, Brown saw fit to keep them out.

Prosecution and defense attorney's have two hours each of oratory and final argument:

The prosecution to demand the electric chair "for a cold-blooded killer who shot down a manacled, defenseless man."

The defense to demand acquittal "because Ruby was insane and did not know what he was doing."

Chief defense attorney Melvin Belli boasted that he had more than 28 "reversible errors" to throw out any conviction in an appeals court.

He said Dist. Atty. Henry Wade "led" the court into the errors.

"They're desperate now," Belli crowed. "They know they can't get a death penalty and they are going to try and get something."

The jury sets the penalty in Texas.

The 66th and final witness in the 22-day old trial capped the defense argument.

Dr. Frederick A. Gibbs of Chicago, a specialist in electroencephalogram (brain wave) readings, testified that Ruby suffers from a "particular, very rare" form of epilepsy that causes blackouts.

But Gibbs, whose theories formed the basis of the defense insanity plea, had "no opinion"

Youth Admits Wave Of Twin City Thefts

Chief Calls Burglaries 'Compulsive'

A 17-year-old Corte Madera youth has admitted 28 business and residential burglaries and about 20 car clouts, extending back to September, 1962, according to Larkspur and Corte Madera police.

The youth's actions were discribed today by Larkspur Police Chief Howard Clark as "not criminal where a person will steal money and goods for a purpose. It was compulsive—an outlet for his energies."

GAVE LOOT AWAY

Corte Madera Police Inspector Harold N. Hockett said the youth, a student at Redwood High School, gave most of his loot away to friends.

The youth has not yet been booked by police, who are trying to recover the money and goods given to his friends.

Corte Madera police have recovered $350 of about $500 stolen from the safe of the Neil Cummins School Feb. 27. The youth showed police where the money had been buried in six locations in Larkspur and Corte Madera.

Friends of the youth have been returning loot to Larkspur police. Clark said three boxes of shotgun shells and a radio were returned yesterday.

Hockett tracked the youth while investigating the Neil Cummins School safe burglary. The safe had been hammered open with a sledge hammer stolen earlier in the night from the Corte Madera corporation yard office.

FORMER STUDENTS

His investigation centered on former students of the Corte Madera School. One such student told Hockett he had overheard the youth say, "I would have gotten the money a month ago, but someone came home."

This fit in with the burglary of the home of Richard Dilling at 53 Birch Street, Corte Madera, on Feb. 12. When Dilling returned home, a would-be burglar fled out a rear door.

Hockett said he talked to the youth last Friday and since then he admitted the Corte Madera and Larkspur burglaries and car clouts.

The police inspector said the

FEAR OF QUAKES

Early Morning Sonic Booms Shatter Quiet

Friday the 13th arrived in Marin County with loud booms and rattling windows, leaving residents wide awake and all shook up long before breakfast today.

The Air Force took full responsibility for lowering the booms, and explained that they were sonic booms caused by a military exercise involving supersonic bombers from the Mexican border to Alaska.

Marinites began waking up at 3 a.m.

Angelina Lenci of 328 Oakdale Avenue, Corte Madera, called police at 3:20 a.m. to say a prowler was shaking the garage doors. It turned out to be sonic reverberations. Some awoke fearing they were experiencing an earthquake.

The Marin County Communications Center, which handles many emergency calls for cities during the night, said there were "quite a few phone calls," starting at 3:18 a.m.

Warned of the exercise in advance, communication workers were able to they were "only sonic booms."

Hamilton Air Force Base, headquarters for the 11-state 28th NORAD area played a big role in the exercise. F-101 Voodoo fighter intercepters of the 78th Fighter Wing at Hamilton took part in the exercise. Hamilton officials, however, said most of the noise was caused by B-58 Hustler bombers.

The exercise, called Top Rung III, ended at 6:30 a.m.

College Signs Agreement To Begin Buying Second Campus

Robert E. Rogers, president of the Marin Junior College District board, last night signed an agreement for the $860,000 purchase of 333.42 acres of the Pacheco Ranch, two miles south of Novato and west of Highway 101 at the end of San Jose Boulevard.

The document was approved 5-0 by the college district trustees, subject to approval of county counsel, Marin County Planning Commission, and State Department of School Planning.

Business manager Norman Bird said the conditions were a formality, since County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney had written the agreement and the district had received unofficial approval of the county planning staff and state school planners.

College president Stephen E. Epler asked that the purchase be recorded as "a historic event."

Rogers said: "It will be the equal of this campus in every respect."

Trustee Joseph D. Gargiulo put in: "I'd like to add it will be a complete campus, not a vocational school or agricultural college. I get many calls about this."

Under the agreement the district will pay $200,000 within 30 days to Abigail T. Rowland and other owners for 72.88 acres, the first of six parcels, the southernmost section. Purchases of other portions will follow annually through 1970.

Selection of the site followed a year of studying numerous areas. The purchase will be financed by a special 35-cent override tax authorized by the voters on June 5, 1962, to raise $11,305,000 to expand the Kentfield campus and start one in North Marin on a pay-as-you-go basis.

A brief dispute broke out between trustees Robert E. Oliver and Kent O. Seymour before the board approved the agreement. Oliver wanted to know how much commission the real estate firm of Frank Howard Allen and Son of San Anselmo would receive for handling the sale.

Seymour, himself a real estate dealer, said: "I don't think that is any concern of ours." Further discussion brought out the firm would get five per cent. This commission is paid by the seller.

Fair Weekend Chances Good

Prospects are good for a fair weekend in Marin County on the heels of a two-day rainstorm that dropped up to one-third of an inch of rain on the county yesterday.

The forecast is for variable cloudiness today changing to fair tomorrow with rising temperatures.

The most rain recorded yesterday was .35 of an inch at Tamalpais Valley. San Rafael had .15, Fairfax had only .02.

For skiers the forecast is snow flurries in the higher mountain areas tonight.

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The United States today failed in an attempt to rocket a tiny gold-plated laboratory 23,000 miles into space to learn more about the earth's magnetic field. Crest Of Flooding River Moves

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The crest of the flood-swollen Ohio River moved westward today. It left in its wake several states with damage already estimated at 50 million dollars, and nine deaths.

The Red Cross estimated 110,000 persons were affected. Many thousands of them driven from their homes.

The flood picture was one of wading evacuations, and dog-tired flood workers and refugees. Injuries were few.

Flood crests were due today at Cincinnati and Louisville,, where a final steel gate in the floodwall clanked into place yesterday afternoon. The wall was prepared to stand a 48-foot crest, or 1.6 feet higher than the predicted crest.

House Kills Pay Hike—'Jitters'

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a sudden seizure of election year jitters, the House has said "no thanks" to a $10,000-a-year pay raise.

Its surpising decision yesterday that at $22,500 Congress members are paid enough, killed a bill that would have boosted the salaries of 1.7 million government workers. The average mailman and government secretary stood to gain $450 annually.

Gross

When the critical vote on over-all passage was imminent, a long-time economy champion, Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa) demanded a roll call. This would force every House member to go on record on a pay boost for himself and would tell the voter how his congressman voted.

Now 136 Republicans joined with 86 Democrats to defeat the measure 222-184.

The 149 Democrats and 35 Republicans who voted for passage now are on record in favor of a pay increase that they did not get.

Cyprus To Reject Ultimatum

The spokesman, quoted by the official Nicasio Radio, said the Turkish warning—contained in a note delivered here today—was "unacceptable."

The radio said the Cyprus government of President Archbishop Makarios also has told its United Nations representative to ask Secretary-General Thant for a special meeting of the security council.

It said this request follows the "new Turkish threat of aggression."

Five Die In Fiery Plane Crash

MILES CITY, Mont. (AP)—A Frontier Airlines plane crashed in a snowstorm and burned in a deep ravine near the Miles City airport last, killing both passengers and all three crew members.

A wing of the plane apparently struck a hillside. The smouldering fuselage, containing the five bodies, was found an hour later.

Bank Gets Set For Picketing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Bank of America, largest in the world, yesterday drew a tough line ahead of any equal employment picketing and said it would resist illegal demonstrations.

Rudolph A. Peterson, president, said that reports circulating indicated that the bank may be the target of demonstrations next week similar to the recent protests at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel, where 167 persons were arrested.

"We will not hesitate to seek injunctions and/or signed complaints for arrest if any demonstration violates the law," said Samuel Stewart, the bank's general counsel.

However, Steward said the bank would recogninze the right to picket in an orderly and lawful manner.

M'Namara Says Vietnam War Can Be Won

Back In States For Full Report To President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said today on his return from South Vietnam that every responsible official there believes the war against Communist guerrillas can be won "if the proper effort is made."

McNamara cautioned that there is no magic formula for winning anti-guerrilla struggle" and that "the path to victory may be hard."

McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff were to make a full report at noon to President Lyndon B. Johnson on the results of their five-day, first hand inspection of the critical Vietnam war situation.

ARRIVES IN U. S.

On his arrival here, the secretary told newsmen:

"In the entire week, I did not talk to a single responsible official who was unable to agree that, if the proper effort is made, the war can be won."

He refused to say what possible changes in American support that he might recommend until after he has talked to the president.

As McNamara stepped from his plane at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Mr., he smiled broadly when a reporter suggested that his tour of South Vietnam was like an election campaign; he was cheered wherever he went among the people.

TWOFOLD PURPOSE

Turning serious, McNamara said the trip had a twofold purpose:

1. To appraise the political, economical and military situations in South Vietnam.

2. To determine what additional actions, if any, are needed to strengthen the South Vietnamese in their war against the Communist Viet Cong.

Flying Back To U.S.

ATHENS, Greece (UPI) — Former President Harry Truman and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson who headed the U.S. delegation to King Paul's funeral yesterday, flew home today aboard a military jet liner. Prince Michael, acting for 23-year-old King Constantine, said goodbye to Truman and Mrs. Johnson.

Kennedy Again Denies Any Feud With Johnson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy insists there is no feud between him and President Lyndon B. Johnson, and that their relations always have been friendly.

Kennedy sought yesterday to discount reports that he and Johnson were at odds over efforts by Kennedy's supporters to boom him for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

The attorney general appealed to Wisconsin backers of a move to get him the vice presidential bid to discontinue their efforts. He repeated his statement that the presidential nominee should select his running mate.

Later, in a talk with a group of Pennsylvania students in his office, Kennedy made this comment on his relations with Johnson:

"I have the highest regard for him. Our relations are friendly; they always have been. He has always been kind to me, to my family and to Mrs. Kennedy—both as vice president and since then. I have read these reports about a feud. There is no substance to these reports."

Huge New Cavern Disclosed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Explorers have found that a cave in western South Dakota is about 20 times as big as any known cavern in the world, Sen. George S. McGovern (D-S.D.), said yesterday.

By comparison to the caves, South Dakota's Jewel Cave, the famed Carlsbad Caverns of New Mexico are "moderately sized," McGovern said in a Senate speech. He said Jewel Cave also contains cavern formations unique in the United States and perhaps in the world, he said.

McGovern said he is preparing legislation to redesignate Jewel Cave National Monument as a national park, redefine its boundaries and authorize building of a new entrance..

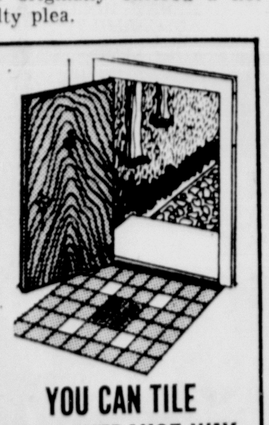

Exploration of the vast cavverns, begun by Mr. and Mrs. Herb Conn of Rapid City S.D., in 1959, has only begun, he said Because of dangers involved, even national park rangers are barred from new areas of the cave and will be until new access shafts and developed areas can be provided, he said.

Calculations based on the volume of air whistling out of the cave, indicate caverns of at least one billion cubic feet and at least one thousand miles of passages.

Ross Clerk Pay Hiked —But Not For Real

The salary for Ross town clerk duties was raised from $2,000 to $3,000 a year last night, but Town Clerk Mrs. John G. Lewis won't get a penny more than she has been —and it isn't $3,000, it's $1,500.

The job of building superintendent was abolished but Mrs. Eleanor T. Muller, who held the title, won't lose a cent in pay. She also is assistant town clerk.

And though the council passed the $1,000 raise—it won't be paying out any more money.

As explained by Mayor Harry C. Scott, here is how it works out:

The town clerk office formerly cost the town $2,000 a year —but Mrs. Lewis was (and still is) getting only $1,500, because $500 of the $2,000 went toward the $1,500 a year pay of Mrs. Muller (who also was and is finance director, but no one has figured exactly how much is paid for this duty).

With abolition of the building superintendent title, it was necessary to provide a method to continue Mrs. Muller's pay at $1,500. So the council last night voted that an assistant clerk may be paid at "a rate not to exceed one half" the pay for the clerk job.

Mrs. Lewis said the building superintendent job was abolished because "the work was negligible." She said the police chief also serves as building inspector.

The council voted to authorize $550 for a town summer recreation program. Mrs. Leonard B. Stafford, chairman of the summer program committee, said the committee would like more money for the summer of 1965. The council requested her to submit details explaining the need.

A proposed subdivision creating two one-acre lots on Upper Road owned by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Chase was approved.

The council authorized J. R. McMahon to place a third taxi in Ross, saying he has "provided excellent service and a third taxi will be welcome."

These Fishermen Dive 1,480 Feet For Food

By JOSEPH L. MEYER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The fishing is fine 1,500 feet under the ice of McMurdo Sound in Antarctica.

Hungry man, whose numbers are constantly growing, may well want to bear this in mind.

A couple of seafood fanciers recently dived 1,480 feet under McMurdo, site of the largest U. S. research station in the frozen continent.

Each came up with a five-foot fish found feeding on whatever fish feed on at those depths in waters which never stray far from the freezing point.

At 1,480 feet the divers were subjected to a pressure of nearly 700 pounds per square inch. This is about 46 times the surface atmospheric pressure.

Such pressures would be instantly fatal to a human being. Few if any submarines could withstand it. So why talk of farming the seas at such depths in such frigid waters?

Well, if man ever really has to engage in intensive sea farming, perhaps he can get the Weddell Seal of Antarctica to do some of his work for him. For reasons still unknown to science, this seal can dive deeper, stay under longer, and do more business down there in the cold than any other mammal.

The Weddell Seal, according to the National Science Foundation, is "the world's southermost mammal and . . . the best adapted to Polar conditions." The recently reported dives were the deepest ever recorded for a seal.

Zoologist Gerald Kooyman of University of Arizona attached depth gauges to some Weddell Seals. This was not hard to do. The Weddell Seals of Antartica have never known any land enemies. You can go right up to and fraternize with them without triggering a single hostility manifestation.

Kooyman provided captive seals with blow holes in the Antarctic ice. They plopped into them and emerged later with the fruits of their sea-bottom fishing. The only reason they didn't go deeper, Kooyman figures, is that the water under the McMurdo Sound ice is only so deep.

The longest dive, from the standpoint of time, lasted 28 minutes, a record. In that time, the seal got no breath of fresh air. Science does not know how seals stand the great pressures at the depths they swim to. But Kooyman believes the need to breathe, and not the pressure, is "the limiting factor."

The antarctic is a rich source of seafood. It is also a most inhospitable fishing ground. Therefore, understanding of how the Weddell Seal makes a go of it is of practical as well as scientific importance.

This knowledge, according to Kooyman, "might prove useful in management of wildlife, particularly if the sea is ever farmed, and might have medical or even engineering applications."

How do marine animals manage to get along with so little fresh water, considering their salty food and environment? This is a mystery It is known that seal milk is extremely rich in fat.

It also is known that nursing seal pups gain weight faster than any other mammals. Why? By study of milk and other seal fluids science hopes to learn secrets useful to mankind in the long future when he may need to imitate the seal in order to farm the sea.

For his research, Kooyman needed some seal milk. How to get it? He esconced himself amongst nursing pups of Weddell Seal mothers. Presumably they came to think of him as just another son.

At any rate, his ruse worked. While the other pups nursed, he tapped the mothers for specimens of their milk. He sucked samples into a large plastic tube. When nobody was looking he transferred the samples to vials strapped to his waist.

The seal mothers presumably thought they were just nursing an odd-looking pup lacking flippers and other normal equipment.

To the National Science Foundation, however, it was more than that. It was, said the NSF, history's "first extensive milking of wild seals."

$67,000 Is Approved For Adoption Unit

The State Department of Finance has approved $67,000 to finance a county adoption agency in Marin County, Assemblyman William T. Bagley and Sen. John F. McCarthy reported from Sacramento today.

County Welfare Director Betty Presley emphasized that this means money has been set aside in Sacramento, but the actual physical establishment of an adoption agency is still a long way off.

"The proposal must go before the County Board of Supervisors," said Miss Presley. "We don't know whether the county would want to go into it." Another problem is where to put the adoption agency, she added.

Bagley and McCarthy authored an amendment to the state budget for this facility. The State Department of Finance has approved the $67,000, to be allocated for the fiscal year beginning July 1 this year.

The money will pay for all staff, operating expenses and equipment, according to the State Department of Social Welfare.

However, Miss Presley said there may be additional costs to be met by local funds. She said these matters must be discussed before the supervisors.

on whether the 52-year-old striptease club owner knew right from wrong.

During a lengthy recess Wes Rise, a newsman for a Dallas television station asked Ruby, in writing, how he felt. Ruby wrote:

"Confused."

"Do you think you will be acquitted?"

"Yes," Ruby wrote.

The haggard, tense-looking defendant said he wanted to testify in his own defense but his attorneys "know better."

Mill Valley Youth Center Budding Supervisor Named

Fred S. Bitgood was named last night as supervisor of construction of the Mill Valley Community and Youth Center, now being put into "useable shape" on the city's 17-acre recreational site in the marshlands.

Bitgood is a Mill Valley contractor and Lions Club member.

Thirty-three persons, including five teen-agers, attended last night's organizational meeting of Recco 17, where 12 new directors were named and it was announced that an election of officers will be held soon.

William Woods, chairman of the organization recently rejuvenated to transform the former restaurant, Colonel's Ranch Wagon, into a center, said there will be a second work party tomorrow, starting at 9 a.m. and continuing on Sunday.

The workmen will finish removing blocks and jacks from beneath the 84 by 60 foot building and set it down upon its permanent supports over a concrete clab. There will also be a cleanup.

Widower Hits Loan Jackpot

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — George L. Bott needed to add two bedrooms to his home when he took on the responsibility of raising the five children of his only son, killed in an automobile accident. So he took out a home improvement loan from the Genesee Merchants Bank and Trust Co.

His $1,500 note was returned before any payments were made, marked "Paid in Full," the bank's way of celebrating an installment- loan record. It was Bott's loan that sent the total over the $100 million mark in just four years.

youth would usually enter by an open window or smash a window open with a rock. He would leave another door open for a quick exit in case he was caught inside the premises.

He has admitted 15 burglaries in Corte Madera, according to Hockett, which include burglaries of the Corte Madera Recreation Center on Dec. 15 and Feb. 9 when $50 and a case of gin were stolen; the Village Corner Store and the Parkside Market during the night of April 6, when a total of $75 was stolen, and theft of $18 from a purse in a car last March 17, his first known burglary in Corte Madera.

Clark said the 13 burglaries and about 20 car clouts which the youth admitted in Larkspur date back to Sept. 25, 1962, when cars began to be rifled for radios, binoculars, cameras, and other items.

The youth's largest haul in Larkspur was $35 stolen from the home of David C. Little at 44 Elm Avenue last Nov. 20. Total amount of cash taken in Larkspur amounts to "a couple hundred dollars," according to Clark.

Apprehension of the youth has cleared up most of the small burglaries during the past year in Larkspur and Corte Madera, police said.

Lagunitas Study Panel Falls Through

An evaluation panel to judge the job being done by Lagunitas School District Supt. Clifford L. Frye has "fallen through," Glen W. Twitchell, chairman of the district board of trustees, announced today.

"It's because of the recall action," Twitchell said. "No one wants to touch it."

After mass meetings at the school protesting the board 3-2 vote to accept Frye's forced resignation, the board agreed to call in impartial school officials to evaluate Frye's work. But since then, recall action was initiated against Trustee Georgette Vilas, one of those voting to accept the resignation.

Representatives of the California Teachers Assn., the California Superintendents Assn. and other groups had agreed to take part—but that was prior to the recall.

The group was to meet tonight, but Twitchell learned yesterday that it was all off.

"It's unfortunate," Twitchell said. "It will probably die out."

Next regular meeting of the board will be held at the school Tuesday.

Horse Show Sunday —Rain Or Shine

Rain or shine, the 4-M Sheriff's Mounted Patrol horse show will get under way at 9 a.m. Sunday at the Circle V Stables above Fairfax, Mrs. Reggie Waldon of the patrol declared today.

The trail class will be the first event, followed by western and English riding, barrel racing, and a cutting horse contest. Refreshments will be served all day. There is no admittance charge.

Scholar Tests Set

Ninety-five Terra Linda High School students have signed up to take the national merit scholarship qualifying test tomorrow. The test is given each year to students seeking college scholarships.

OBITUARIES

Lawrence R. Moore Dies At 85

Lawrence R. Moore of 55 Montecito Road, San Rafael, probably the city's oldest store owner, died at his home today after an illness of three years. He was 85 years old.

Moore established Moore's Stationery Store on San Rafael's Fourth Street in 1901. It is now at 1337 Fourth Street, only a few doors from its original location.

A native of Ypsilanti, Mich., Moore grew up on a farm. He came West and settled in Larkspur in 1896 at the age of 17. He got a job with a freight agent, intending to learn to be a telegrapher. But after five years he gave this up to become a stationer.

Moore and Gertrude McGee were married in San Rafael in 1904. The two worked together in the stationery store for many years. Mrs. Moore died in 1956.

Moore served on the board that drew up the city charter which was adopted in 1912. He had also served on several Marin County grand juries through the years.

In recent years, the store has been managed by Albert F. Schmitz of San Rafael, who holds an option to buy the business.

Moore leaves a daughter, Mrs. Helen Howard of San Rafael; a sister, Mrs. H. W. Dudley of San Rafael, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. Monday at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

W. E. FARTHING

William Eugene Farthing, 71, a retired Air Force major general predicted a surprise Japanese attack on Parl Harbor, died yesterday at a San Francisco Hospital after long illness.

Farthing had resided at 80 Edgewood Avenue, Mill Valley. He served in the Air Force and its predecessors 35 years, serving in both World War I and II.

In August 1941, prior to the Dec. 7 attack on Pearl Harbor, he was a colonel and commander of the Fifth Bombardment Group at the Army's Hawaiian Air Corps, based at Hickam Field.

Farthing, according to Gordon W. Prange in his book, "Tora, Tora, Tora," sent staff reports to the War Department suggesting the surprise attack with use of possibly six carriers. He said the most advantageous time to launch such an air strike would be at dawn and the that approach would most likely be from the north. He recommended measures to forestall such an attack.

The retired officer had also served as head of Air Materiel Command at Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio. He retired Aug. 31, 1952, and had lived in Mill Valley 10 years.

He is survived by his wife, Mabel G. Farthing; a son, William E. Farthing Jr. of Sacramento; a daughter, Mrs. Gail Anderson of Davis, and five grandchildren.

Funeral will be held at the Chapel of the Presidio of San Francisco, Monday at 2 p.m. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

ALTA HEYNEMANN

Memorial service for Mrs. Alta May Heynemann of Belvedere, killed in an auto crash Wednesday evening, will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Belvedere.

Friends may call at Russell and Gooch Memorial Chapel in Mill Valley until 9 p.m. today.

The family asks that tributes be donations to the American Cancer Society.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Heynemann's daughter, Ruth, who was seriously injured in the same accident, was reported still in fair condition and slightly improved at Marin General Hospital.

Three others injured in the three-car smashup on Highway 101 at Corte Madera have all been released from the hospital.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Helnemann leaves her husband, James L. Heynemann, and a son, James A. Heynemann, of the family home at 208 Beach Road, Belvedere.

MRS. BONOMI

Requiem Mass for Caterina N. Bonomi of Petaluma, a former resident of Marin County, was held at St. Vincent's Church in Petaluma today.

Mrs. Bonomi, a native of Italy, died while visiting friends in Santa Rosa Monday. She was 74.

She and her husband, Angelo Bonomi, operated dairy ranches on Point Reyes and at Marshall.

She was a member of the auxiliary of the Sons of Italy.

In addition to her husband, she leaves four sons, Alfred, Albert, William and Louis Bonomi, all of Petaluma. There are seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Entombment was at Calvary Mausoleum, Petaluma.

LAMAR PERKINS

Funeral for Lamar C. Perkins, 59, of San Francisco, brother of Mrs. Gertrude Morley of Novato, will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow at the McAvoy-O'Hara Evergreen Mortuary, San Francisco.

Perkins died yesterday at his sister's home in Novato after a long illness. He had been resting there for two weeks.

He was a postal clerk in San Francisco and a former ship radio operator. A native of New Orleans, La., he had lived in San Francisco most of his adult life.

Surviving are his sister and a brother, Ellison Perkins of San Francisco.

Burial will be in Skylawn Memorial Park, Half Moon Bay. Friends may call at McAvoy-O'Hara after 4 p.m. today.

ARTHUR VALENTINE

Arthur Valentine, 55, of 1315 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, died yesterday in a Kentfield convalescent hospital without regaining consciousness after suffering head injuries in a fall Jan. 1 in a San Rafael store.

Valentine, an employee of the Borden Co. for 15 years, fell at the Tamalpais Liquor and Delicatessen Store, Fourth Street and Tamalpais Avenue, as result of a stroke or fainting spell.

Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said an autopsy will be performed.

Valentine, who had lived in Marin County for seven years, is survived by a son, Lee Valentine of Sausalito.

The board voted to purchase $750 of language laboratory equipment for teaching Spanish in seventh and eighth graders next school year. Half of the sum will be paid by the federal government, said clerk Arthur E. Carpenter.

Novato Candidates Discuss Qualifications For Council

By THERON A. NEWELL

The seven candidates for three positions on the Novato City Council in the April 14 election discussed their qualifications and answered questions last night at the first public candidates' night of the campaign at the Novato Community House.

Approximately 80 people attended the forum, sponsored by the Novato Branch of the American Assn. of University Women. Mrs. Peter Yarish was moderator.

After more than two hours of discussion, candidate William Jack Adams summarized the results by saying, "The views are not widely divergent."

Those participating were: Mayor M. E. Babe Silva, only incumbent seeking re-election; J. Wayne Womack, Novato's first mayor; Douglas M. Merrill, planning commission chairman; Eugene Trombley, parks and recreation commission member; Robert J. Manthey, teacher at the county juvenile hall; Adams, and Alton Lerch, who is running a write-in campaign. After each candidate gave a three-minute biographical sketch, they answered five questions which had been submitted to them before the meeting.

First question asked was, "What is the function of the city council regarding the city manager?"

Adams said the city council was a policy making body which was to tell qualified employees to do their job, but not tell them how to do it. Merrill, who is teamed with Adams, had nothing to add to this.

Lerch noted that Novato has an administrator, not a manager. He quoted ordinance 34 which defines the functions of the administrator.

Manthey said the council should be policy making and the administrator was to direct the department heads.

Silva said the administrator's job is to carry out the council's directives. He added that the Novato administrator has done a good job.

"Novato is like a large corporation in which the council is the policy making body and the administrator is answerable to the council," said Trombley.

Womack said, however, the council is much more than a policy making body. It has a prime responsibility in setting up the budget. It sets the standards for employees it hires and the jobs they are to perform, he said.

Next question was, "What are the advantages or disadvantages of annexation to the city?"

Adams could not give any disadvantages.

Lerch favored forming an annexation committee to sell the advantages of joining the city to the outlying areas. Trombley agreed.

Manthey had no statement.

Merrill said the city can protect property values, and should annex until it has a natural geographic boundary.

"I believe in annexation," said Silva. He said he and former councilman Howard Schoof had worked many hours as a council committee to get San Marin to annex to the city. He said the 30 cent tax rate in Novato should not keep anyone out.

"Novato has a lot to offer," said Womack, mentioning planning, public works and police department. He said people could get these services at their doorstep, not having to go all the way to the Civic Center or courthouse for them.

Third question was, "What authority should the planning commission have? . . . What interests should be represented on it?"

Adams believed members of the planning commission should be chosen by geographical areas in the city.

Lerch said the planning commission should have the "authority of a complete master plan." He said all members should complete a course in urban development at University of California at city expense.

"I take a dim view of granting variances." Manthey said.

"There is too much detail that could be handled by the staff that comes before the planning commission," said Merrill, chairman of that commission. He also said too much that could be left to the planning commission goes before the council. Trombley agreed.

Silva also agreed. "The council is going to consider eliminating many items at the council level," he said, while continuing to grant the right to appeal to the council.

Womack said he does not believe in giving all the authority to the commission. He suggested council and commission should meet jointly at least quarterly.

"What steps would you take to acquire park lands? How would you finance parks? What priority should be given park acquisition?" was next asked.

"Decide what kind of parks we want and where they should be, then we can tell what it will cost," Adams said. He advocated a bond issue to buy parks.

Lerch advocated an ordinance creating neighborhood parks, paid for by people of the area surrounding them, at no expense to city government.

Manthey would place a high priority on acquiring land for parks.

"In updating the master plan, we will get a park plan," said Merrill. He suggested a regional park built with state and federal funds about Stafford Lake.

Silva said he had been working with big land owners to get donation of land for a park, but it had fallen through when San Marin bought the Pinheiro property. He said it would be up to the people to decide if they wanted a bond issue for parks. He said it would take a long time at the present tax rate to get enough money to buy 15 or 20 acres.

"The parks and recreation commission is the forgotten commission in Novato," said Trombley, member of that mission. He advocated hiring another man in the recreation department to make a survey for parks.

Womack suggested the city cooperate with school districts to get use of school playgrounds as parks. He also agreed in trying to get state money for a park at Stafford Lake.

The fifth question was, "What should the city do to improve the library, if anything?" (Novato's library is a branch of the county library.)

"The city cannot establish a library system of its own," said Adams, but it might assist in providing better housing for the library. He felt the city should get better service for its tax dollars in the library.

Lerch said the city has too many other problems to try to develop its own library system. He suggested a lease-rental agreement to get a new building.

"I would give the library as much priority as possible," said Manthey. He suggested a "library service area" within the county library district to get a new building.

Merrill also agreed that it was not possible for Novato to have its own library, but said the local library needs more adequate staffing.

"I am aware that the library is inadequate, but the problem lies squarely in the lap of the board of supervisors, not the city council," said Silva. The city council could do nothing unless the people voted to form a separate library system, he said.

"I'm a member of the junior chamber of commerce library committee," Womack said. He reported the committee is considering (1) a community services area, (2) a bond issue for a new building, and (3) creating a new library system.

In a brief period of questions from the floor, one concerned the school crossing over the narrow Warner Creek bridge at South Novato Boulevard and what should be done now that the flood control district wants to widen the flood channel.

Silva answered that the City of Novato and Marin County had the project scheduled for next year under the joint city-county road plan.

Beach Parking Funds Approved

The state wildlife conservation board yesterday appropriated $20,600 to provide parking for 60 cars at Agate Beach, also known as the Bolinas Tidepools area.

Also included in the plans will be a new road to reach the beach from Bolinas.

Plans call for cutting into the hillside to grade out sufficient space, about a half acre, and to pave the area.

Access to the beach has been owned by the Bolinas Beach Public Utility District, but title was transferred to Marin County two weeks ago to allow the state project to be approved.

Break-Ins, Thefts Reported To Sheriff

A series of minor break-ins and thefts, including loss of $450 in welding tools from a truck owned by Walter C. Smith, Fresno, and parked on Highway 101 near Lucas Valley Road, were reported by Marin County sheriff's office today.

Smith told deputies the truck was unlocked.

Grace Mauerhan, Lucas Valley Road, Nicasio, told officers a camera, watch, and liquor totaling $320 were taken from her home sometime earlier this week. No sign of forced entry was evident, officers said.

Theft of $100 worth of tools from a box owned by G. M. Carr's Crane Service, Santa Rosa, on a job site at the new Tocaloma Bridge on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, was reported by Lester Neely, crane operator.

Mary F. Stabell, 41 Laurel Grove, Kentfield, reported her unlocked house was entered, probably Wednesday, and $30 taken from a purse. The purse was later found discarded in a driveway, she said.

A car jack valued at $20 was taken from the car of Jack F. Farrell, 81 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, while it was parked in the Mill Valley area, deputies said.

David E. Bacigalupi, 56 Alder Avenue, San Anselmo, said a house and garage he owns at 31 Laurel Avenue, Kentfield, were entered Wednesday and parts removed from a Model A Ford.

Marion Lucille Hixon, 25 Willow Avenue, Corte Madera, reported yesterday her unlocked car parked on East Blithedale Road at Kipling Drive in the Mill Valley area was entered and a car radio and about $6 cash taken.

Tomales Bay Pay Raises Are Granted

A salary increase of $200 to $300 per year for teachers in the Tomales Bay union school district was approved by trustees of the district last night.

The beginning salary was increased from $4,800 to $5,000 per year, and the top salary from $7,500 to $7,800, reported Mrs. Lois Parks, clerk of the board.

A preliminary budget of $70,884 was submitted to the board by Floyd Billigmeier, principal. This is down $2,000 from the current budget of $72,884. The board did not discuss any possible change in the $1.48 tax rate of this year until it has a chance to study the budget, Mrs. Parks said.

Billigmeier submitted his resignation as principal and eighth grade teacher, to continue his education. The board accepted it with regret. No replacement has been selected.

The trustees approved participating in the federally supported language program and ordered $705 in language teaching equipment. The federal government will pay half of this cost.

M. A. Ewing, structural engineer with the state office of architecture, gave approval to the classroom building at the Tomales School, which was completed two years ago in January.

Baby Clues Search Turns To Doctors

Search for clues in identity of a newborn baby found dead in a Highway 101 drainage ditch March 5 was turned today by Marin County sheriff's office to doctors and hospitals.

Inspectors said a form letter is being mailed each doctor and hospital in the county asking if any recent pregnancy has been treated for infection. Officers said reason is that the baby, a nude male, was believed born without professional medical aid and infection is likely.

$2,700 Wristwatch Is Still Missing

A $2,700 wristwatch, believed lost in garbage Wednesday, was still missing today, Mrs. John Comper, 2038 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, reported.

Marin County sheriff's office said a search by garbage men failed to disclose the item, a white-gold watch studded with 44 diamonds. Mrs. Comper said she noticed it missing from her wrist only minutes after she dumped a sack into cans then taken by garbage collection employees.

Escaper Is Booked For Kidnaping

Thomas Ezekial Rivera, 24, a former Napa State Hospital patient, was booked at Marin County jail yesterday on charges of kidnaping and robbery arising from a crime spree in San Rafael Feb. 13.

Rivera was arrested in Napa yesterday by San Rafael police as he was released from hospital custody.

Last month Rivera and a fellow hospital escaper, Richard Dorrance, 33, terrorized five persons and stole two cars in San Rafael, police said.

They were arrested by San Anselmo police in a stolen car shortly after the first robbery was reported, and returned to Napa.

They reportedly stole a car at the hospital and abandoned it just north of San Rafael when the radiator failed. Then, police said, they robbed the Court San Rafael Motel of $42, robbed two patrons of $66 and stole their car.

They couldn't operate the car because it was specially built for paraplegics, so they abandoned it at the Howard M. Morse real estate office, 1726 Lincolnl Avenue. There they took $2 and her car key from a secretary, Joyce Elizabeth McColm of 6 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia.

The pair forced Mrs. McColm out of the building, and tried to take her along with them, but she defied them and went to an office next door to call police.

The pair were arrested in her car by San Anselmo police on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Rivera was committed to Napa from San Francisco Feb. 4. Dorrance, who is still at the hospital, was committed from Contra Costa County Jan. 3.

Nearly 10,000 different varieties of apples are grown throughout the world.

Cooperative Nursery Gets A Reprieve

Due to a reversal of county counsel opinion, the cooperative nursery at San Rafael High School can continue to operate classes in its converted war surplus building, at least to the end of the year.

Tuesday night the San Rafael Board of Education was told the district would be liable for any injury or death due to fire because the building does not have the one-hour fire walls required for school buildings by the uniform building code.

With this opinion from Deputy County Counsel James Gustin, the board ordered the building vacated at once.

However, after a meeting of parents who operate the nursery with Gustin and Business Manager Charles L. Condrotte of the school district Wednesday night, it was decided the building could continue in use.

Condrotte said there appeared to be conflicts between the state government code, the uniform building code and the state health and safety code.

It was also discovered that the state fire marshal approved the building for classroom use last year, he reported. The business manager said C. Paul Bettini, chairman of the board of education, has told parents they may continue to use the building.

Another letter from the county counsel's office will be presented with the new findings at the board's next meeting, March 24, Condrotte said.

If the building should be moved as planned from the present site at the southeast corner of the campus to the northeast corner, the building code regulation probably would go into effect, Condrotte said.

On Tuesday, architect Carl F. Gromme estimated it would cost $25,000 to make the building meet the code, an amount board members agreed was more than the building's worth.

DIXIE UNIT VOTES UNIFICATION FIGHT

Group Recommends Three-Year Study; Want School Standards Maintained

A special committee in the Dixie School District has voted 4-3 to fight unification, the Dixie School board learned last night.

Instead, it recommended a three-year study of the problem.

"We're not going to have that kind of time," commented trustee Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. Supt. Dennie B. Willis said he felt three years would be the maximum amount of time allowed before the state forced some type of unification.

The committee, headed by Thomas F. Campanella, contended neither proposed unification with San Rafael nor unifying as a separate district, to include Terra Linda High School, would do the job required by the state.

It also noted complications in the naming of a new school board if unification with San Rafael occured because of the special relationship with the City of San Rafael, a charter city with some powers over school functions.

Two of the committee members, however, felt unification with San Rafael should be started as soon as possible. Another called for unification of Dixie District alone, arguing this would maintain Dixie District standards of education, which, the group held higher than in San Rafael.

The trustees were also presented a report projecting the increase of the tax base in the district over the next few years. This report said assessed valuation should jump this year by almost five million dollars to 30 million dollars total, and increase by six or seven million dollars a year for the next few years.

Campanella said population growth will also be large, and average assessed valuation per child in the district should stay about the same.

Willis, who returned yesterday from a meeting of school administrators in Sacramento, said he had been told that the Unruh Bill, which would create countywide unified school districts except where there are charter cities, had strong support in the legislature and is apparently not merely a bargaining measure to achieve something less.

Trustee Dorothy Brown, a member of the County Committee on School District Organization, noted that the county augmented committe for the San Rafael-Novato area has scheduled a meeting Wednesday in Novato, at which a proposal for unifying San Rafael, Dixie, San Jose and Novato into one district is expected to be dropped.

Jury Can't Agree In Stabbing Case

A Marin Superior Court jury the trial of Leonard G. Golledge, 24-year-old San Quentin inmate charged with stabbing a fellow prisoner last Sept. 24, and was dismissed by Judge Thomas F. Keating.

Ass't. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said a new trial date will be set Monday. He said the jury was 10 for acquittal and two for conviction.

Golledge, serving six months to 15 years on a burglary conviction, allegedly stabbed Paul F. Weeks, 31, serving time for lewd and lascivious conduct from Los Angeles County. Weeks recovered from the wounds, inflicted by a 12-inch metal rod.

A third inmate, William Henry Usrey, 28, serving five years to life on a robbery conviction, has entered a plea of guilty in the same stabbing. Usrey testified that he was the only assailant.

The jury deliberated only about four hours yesterday following the three-day trial.

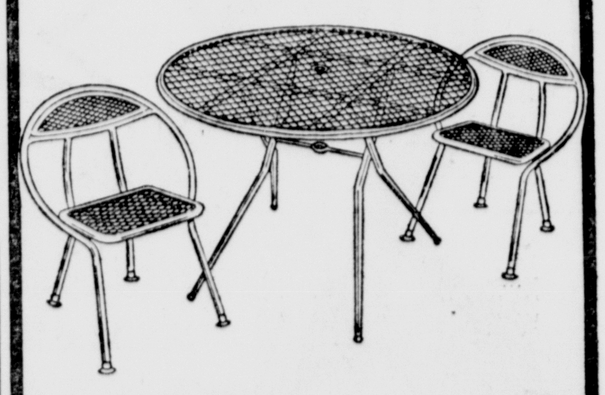

Man Cuts Thumb As Auto Crashes

Edward Thomas Secrist, 40, of 1408 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, suffered a cut left thumb when his car struck a parked car at 2036 Fourth Street, San Rafael, at 9:45 p.m. yesterday, San Rafael police reported.

Secrist was treated at San Rafael General Hospital. The parked car is owned by Willard Cox Jr., who lives at 2036 Fourth Street.

Some 2,365,000 children in this country live with divorced or separated parents, 93 per cent of them with their mothers, estimates the Population Reference Bureau.

Soviets Might Try Three U.S. Airmen

BERLIN (UPI)—Soviet authorities are holding three U.S. airmen shot down by a Russian fighter and the Americans may be tried in a Communist court, an East German Foreign Ministry spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the Russians are now investigating the airmen's "personal responsibility" for what the Soviets call their spy flight.

A trial may result, he said.

The spokesman hinted that the final result of the investigation could be the return of the Americans to the West coupled with a strong Soviet protest against the alleged "provocation." But he gave no details on this possible move.

He indicated the Americans have been in Soviet hands since their U.S. Air Force RB-66 jet reconnaissance bomber was shot down Tuesday after veering into East German skies while officially on a training flight over West Germany.

The United States had denied strongly the Soviet "spy plane" charge.

The spokesman said it was "unlikely" the three U.S. Air Force officers will be tried by an East German court. He said it has not yet been determined whether the Soviets have a "legal basis" on which to try the Americans.

"In order to file charges, one must have evidence," he said.

De Molay Week Set For Novato

The Novato Chapter of the Order of DeMolay will begin the observance of DeMolay Week with a dance from 8 to 11:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Druids Hall in Novato.

Rainbow Girls and Job's Daughters will be guests of the DeMolay at the dance, according to Mike Conway, master councilor.

On Sunday, DeMolay members will have a devotional day at their churches.

Dixie Eyes Foreign Languages

The Dixie School District may start foreign language instruction this fall, a year before the state requires.

A citizen subcommittee, headed by Douglas K. McVae, last night asked district trustees to start a language program as soon as possible.

The committee also said language instruction should start in the fourth grade, and Spanish should be the language taught, with French added later if possible. State law requires instruction in the sixth grade by September, 1965.

A minority report was filed by Mrs. Margaret J. Freeman, saying the instruction should start at the kindergarten level.

School Supt. Dennie B. Willis said the proposed budget for next year will include $20,000 for purchase and installation of necessary equipment for language instruction, and money for hiring a special language teachers.

Gallinas District Will Meet On New Budget

Directors of the Gallinas Village Community Services District last night called for a special meeting Thursday to discuss next year's budget, and promised to move toward a major change of emphasis to more recreation activities.

The board received a proposed compliance schedule from the Bay Area Regional Water Pollution Control Board for the district's sewer system, and voted to refer the schedule to the Las Gallinas Valley sanitary district, which is expected to annex the community services district area.

Chairman Herbert C. Belben Jr. was directed to meet with state officials on the didstrict's application for a $19,000 federal grant to improve sanitary facilities, now that the district is relinquishing the sanitation function.

Aspirin was introduced for medicinal purposes by the German firm of Bayer in 1899.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

March has two Special Days: St. Patrick's Day And Easter

March has two special days for restaurants: Sain Patrick's Day next Tuesday—and Easter on the 29th. Restaurants are already urging reservations for Easter, for this is probably their biggest day of the year—with the possible exception of Mother's Day.

Among others, Franchini's Chateau plans on observing both occasions appropriately—Saint Patrick's Day with corned beef and cabbage (which I have always found good here) for both lunch and dinner, and a full day on Easter Sunday — with chocolate eggs for the small fry, courtesy of the Easter bunny. Reservations should be made for Easter.

AT PEACOCK GAP COUNTRY CLUB, it isn't too early to make reservations for Easter brunch for the family—even though there's lots of room here.

SABELLA'S, of course, is noted for its annual Easter egg hunt and brunch in the morning, and due to the build-up this has had over the years, reservations are necessary. Early afternoon the Sabella dining room switches over to dinners for the rest of the day.

And I understand Sabella's is also going Irish next Tuesday with corned beef and cabbage and several colorful green frills —including a creme de menthe sundae—featured all day long.

TONIGHT AND TOMORROW NIGHT there's a grand opening going on at the new Pinky's Pizza at 5460 Redwood Highway—near Hamilton Air Force Base. "This one is even better and bigger than the others," says Art Shattie. In charge will be John Bettencourt who has been at Pinkie's in Larkspur. The Les Martinson Trio will help celebrate the opening.

This is the fifth in the Pinky's Pizza chain which is steadily increasing.

Others are on the Kent-Lark strip between Larkspur and Kentfield, in the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael—and in Petaluma and Walnut Creek. You'll see more of them in the future.

Hours at the new Pinky's are from 5 p.m. to midnight Tuesdays through Thursdays, 5 to 2 a.m. Fridays and Saturdays ,and 2 to 10 p.m. Sundays. Closed Mondays.

BLUE ROCK INN, Larkspur, is temporarily closed for lunches. Reason: The kitchen is being remodeled and preparing lunches takes too much time out of the day for getting any work done lunches should start again by the first of May. Open for dinners seven days a week.

ORGANIST BOB STEWART, who played at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax a couple of weeks ago, is down for idditional appearances beginning tonight. He'll "organize" in the Deer Park cocktail lounge from 7:30 Friday nights, 8:30 Saturdays and 5:30 Sundays. They're now serving hors d' oeuvres in the lounge from 6 to 9. Friday nights, by the way, there's a good seafood menu for dinner.

LE VIVOIR RESTAURANT in the Casa Madrona Hotel, Sausalito, is scheduled to reopen next Thursday after closing since the first of the month for kitchen remodeling.

TRAVELERS INN for a few years has been a sort of "house divided"—that is to say, the hotel and bar business has been owned and operated by Vic Scherini and Al Barghini, and the restaurant by Jimmie Louie and his sons.

It has worked out very well, but Vic and Al are now preparing to retire, and the entire operation will be taken over by the Louie clan, et al. Officially, Kem Y. Louie (Jimmie's son) and George Woon, a new partner from San Francisco will have the bar and hotel business.

The liquor license has yet to be transferred. The transaction should be completed by early April.

AT CONFUCIUS RESTAURANT in the Bon Air Center, Greenbrae, Ed Leong is now the manager in charge. Horace Fong is spending all his time at the Oakland restaurant. Charlie Young still remains as head chef, Harlan Wing is head waiter and Bill Dong is at the bar serving king-sized cocktails. Restaurant service is seven days a week from noon as heretofore.

Dick Saltzman and Pierre Josephs play vibes and bass here Friday and Saturday nights, staring tonight. The 13th is luck for them, they say.

A COMING CHEF is young Milan Prokupek Jr. at Inverness Lodge, who successfully demonstrated the preparation of "swickova" at last Monday morning's gourmet course at the Jewish Community Center in San Rafael. Milan has picked up many of the tricks of his mother Manka and is actually doing most of the cooking at the Lodge—with Manka spending more of her time on her famous Viennese pastries.

He'll probably take on still more responsibilities here in view of his parents' dream of developing their 100-acre valley at the northwest end of Inverness Village as a resort (Inverness Valley Inn).

Milan Jr. has been helping at the Lodge since he was 9 years old. Now he's a husband and a father. So quickly the time has passed, with the younger generations stepping in. His sister Alena and her husband Vladimir Nevl have been operating Drake's Arms for some time now and are doing real well at it.

Incidentally, you might try that swickova (pronounced switch-ko-vah) when you are in Inverness. This is said to be the piece de resistance at a Czech wedding feast. It is roast beef tenderloin which has been marinated 14 days in Madeira wine and spices. Served with sour cream sauce.

WHILE WE'RE ON the subject of Inverness, the Golden Hinde Boatel is a waterside hostelry that should please swimmers, fishermen and boat lovers alike. The rental fleet includes sailboats, runabouts and utility boats with outboards. Facilities are available for visiting boats and seaplanes.

Northgate Shopping Center Restaurant Site Leased

Restaurateurs Kris and Mike Kutsuris of the Seven Chefs Restaurant in East Oakland's Foothill Square Shopping Center, who are also owners of five other restaurants in the Bay Area, have signed a lease for space in the Northgate Regional Shopping Center.

The Northgate restaurant will feature barbecue and hof brau kitchens and will have a seating capacity of more than 200, with private banquet facilities for 80 diners.

Occupying 6,045 square feet, it will be located on the mall across from the Emporium, in the same building with Roos-Atkins, Milens Jewelers, and Sommer and Kaufman. There will be entrances from both the central mall and the parking area to the west of the shopping center. It is being designed by the restaurant planning firm, Kosmos and Associates.

It is not expected to open until early 1965.

Malcolm X Says Learn To Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Malcolm X, the Negro nationalist leader who is a caustic critic of nonviolent protests, says "It is criminal to teach a man not to defend himself while under attack."

He told a news conference in New York yesterday that Negroes should own shotguns and form rifle clubs "to defend ourselves in times of emergency."

College Arts Building Cut Back Again

The proposed College of Marin fine arts building was cut back farther in size and cost last night in preliminary plans shown to trustees.

The Marin Junior College District board reviewed drawings from Falk and Booth, architects and engineers, showing a total area of 56,485 square feet. Last week the area had been cut from 64,422 to 60,321 square feet.

The architects estimated construction cost in the new "economy size" at $1,403,972, a reduction of about $192,000 from last week. Over-all cost, including auditorium seating, air conditioning, lighting, site work, etc., will be $1,863,922, instead of two million, said Wesley Hull, consultant for the firm.

Hull recommended removable walls to give classrooms a variety of uses and trustee Rogert E. Oliver responded, "We should think about it at any number of places."

The board did not, however, adopt a resolution approving the design.

Outdoor lighting for another new building, the student center, was estimated by landscape architect Ernest Wertheim at $6,045. The board held this, also, under consideration.

The Marin Junior College District board also:

1. Decided to seek support of the Marin County Board of Supervisors in urging federal legislation to speed the Corte Madera flood control project, which affects the Kentfield campus.

2. Took under advisement an offer by Norman Gilboy of Mill Valley to sell 20,000 to 25,000 yards of "very good grade fill" at about 90 cents a yard; Gilboy said the district would save $2,000 to $3,000 but business manager Norman Bird said the matter would have to go to bid.

3. Authorized Weaver Meadows, head of the college business division, and instructor Mary Louise Sullivan to attend the California State Business Education Assn. convention in Santa Monica March 21-23 at district expense.

4. Authorized hiring of Roy G. Mikalson, former half-time administrative assistant to dean of instruction Paul Clymer, as fulltime assistant dean, effective July 1, at $11,820 per year.

5. Voted to ask insurance companies for a 30-day extension from next March 28 in filing proof of loss in the fire that burned down the old gymnasium last Dec. 16.

Director Explains Abstention In Vote

Richard Less, director of the Terra Linda Community Services District, yesterday explained his abstention Tuesday in the vote by the district board opposing the plan by the Draper Companies for an apartment project on the hill behind the Northgate Shopping Center.

He said that in his dealings in the past he had always found the Draper Companies had kept their promises on the quality of a development, and felt that no action should be taken by the board until representatives of the developers had been given a chance to tell their side of the case.

Clausen Recorded Against Pay Bill

Rep. Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) did not actually vote, but was recorded as against the bill to raise the pay of congressmen, government officials, civil service employees and postal workers.

The House of Representatives yesterday defeated the federal pay raise bill.

Sausalito Woman Is Saved From Strangler

A 45-year-old Sausalito woman was saved from a strangler by two men near San Francisco's Cliff House yesterday.

Mabel Wyne, wife of Dr. Paul Wyne, was grabbed around the throat by a man she found breaking into her parked car. Police praised Weyman Gilstrap and Ira J. Hunt, both of San Francisco.

"They came to her aid," Inspector Gus Cerros said, "while everyone else ignored her screams for help."

The two men held the assailant until police arrived. Booked for assault with intent to commit murder was Dean B. Garner, 37, a convicted auto thief.

Mrs. Wyne and her husband live at 135 Toyon Lane, Sausalito.

She told police she left the Cliff House restaurant at 4:20 p.m. and got into her car parked nearby.

As she entered, Garner allegedly got in from the other side and said, "I'm taking over, lady."

Mrs. Wyne said Garner grabbed her throat and threatened to kill her. In the struggle, she bit his hand. Gilstrap and Hunt then rushed up and stopped the fight in the car. Ruth Hollie, who was with the two men, later told police that Garner had accosted her earlier in the day.

Dr. Sheppard's Bid Rejected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—The pardon and parole commission today rejected Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard's bid for freedom and said it would not consider his case until he was eligible for parole this fall.

The action was a surprise, as many principals in Sheppard's conviction of second degree murder for the bludgeon slaying in 1954 of his wife had recommended he be released from prison.

The rejection of his appeal for reconsideration by the commission came as he pressed for his release under a habeas corpus action in U.S. District Court.

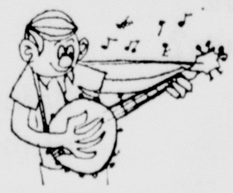

The commission's decision still left Sheppard's request up to Gov. James A. Rhodes, who could act against the parole commission recommendation and grant executive clemency or immediate parole.

Marin Conservation League Will Bring Holdings To 87 Acres In Three Parcels

Marin Conservation League voted last night to buy more bay tidelands east of Corte Madera, bringing its holdings to 87 acres in three parcels.

The action was taken at the league's 30th annual banquet meeting at San Francisco Yacht Club, Belvedere. About 200 attended.

The league previously had purchased one small parcel of tidelands for $3,600. The remaining parcels in the 67-acre plot are expected to cost about $15,000.

Treasurer George K. Phelps' financial report indicated the league has cash on hand of just over $14,000. Mrs. Clement W. Miller Sr., present at last night's meeting, announced she would donate $1,000 in memory of her late son, Congressman Clem Miller, to assure immediate purchase. Her gift was roundly applauded.

Mrs. P. K. Gilman of Larkspur, who headed the fund-raising work of the league for the past year, also received applause after it was explained that league had raised nearly $17,500 during the year.

Mrs. Harold Summers, league president, said negotiations will be started to obtain options on more Corte Madera tidelands in the "Save the Bay" effort.

Mrs. Summer's annual report reviewed the work of the league, including its participation in the Marin Conservation Council, efforts to save the 15-acre Scott property between Panoramic Highway and Frank Valley Road for inclusion in Mount Tamalpais State Park, efforts to save Richardson Bay tidelands, and support of the move to have Marin Municipal Water District Lands preserved as a state park.

She stressed the need for enlarged membership, above the present 700, "to take advantage of opportunities" to accomplish conservation of Marin's natural beauties.

Speakers at the banquet were Putnam Livermore and Robert Jasperson, conservation attorneys. They explained the purposes of the newly formed Conservation Law Society and discussed legal avenues open to conservationists in protecting natural resources.

Three Marinites Have Roles In 'Beggar's Opera'

Three Mill Valley girls and a Novato man have leading roles in "The Beggar's Opera" tonight at San Francisco State College.

Double-cast as Polly Peachum are Jan McCready Chesse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland McCready of Mill Valley, and Miranda Forwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Forwood of Mill Valley. Cast as Mrs. Peachum is Sally Champlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cheetham of Mill Valley. Singing the leading male role of MacHeath is Kenneth Rowland of Novato.

Other performances of the 18th Century opera, with contemporary score by Benjamin Britten, will be tomorrow and March 20 and 21.

Six Cars Smash, Patrolman Backs Auto Into Pole

Six cars were involved in a chain reaction accident yesterday in the southbound Waldo Tunnel when a car driven by Matthew Charles McKenna, 41, of Napa went into a spin at 5:35 p.m.

Five cars quickly piled up in back of McKenna's car. Donald Paul Cabe, 30, of Ukiah, driver of the third car, said he would go to a doctor for treatment of a bruised shoulder.

California Highway Patrol Officer Palmer Cunningham backed the patrol car he was driving into a light pole after completing the accident investigation. Damage to trunk and left rear bumper was moderate.

Mosquito Abatement Pay Hike Study Set

A three-man committee was appointed last night to study possible salary increases for employees of the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District.

Board chairman James Russell named Evan T. Pugh of Belvedere as chairman of the salary committee. Other members are Harry Williams and Paul Di Pietro, both of San Rafael. The committee will make recommendations on salary at the April 9 meeting of the board.

The board of directors also adopted a holiday policy similar to the one adopted recently by the county board of supervisors.

When two or more holidays fall on Saturdays during a year, half the employees will be off the day preceding the first holiday, and the other half of the employees will be off on the day preceding the second holiday.

Awards For Scouts

Awards for the best window displays prepared by Marin Cub Scout and Boy Scout units last month will be presented by the Marin Lodge of B'nai B'rith at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday, a week later than was incorrectly reported in the Independent-Journal yesterday.

The composition of the opal is 90 per cent silica and 10 per cent water.

'GRAPEVINE' KNOWS ABOUT NEW WARDEN

SOLEDAD (AP) — Lawrence Wilson, newly appointed warden at San Quentin Prison, can vouch for the existence of a lively "underground grapevine" in California's penal system.

Wilson, 60, is superintendent of the Soledad Correctional Training Facility. When he arrived at work Monday, inmates at the facility congratulated him on his new assignment.

The appointment wasn't publicly announced until yesterday.

Marinwood Swimming Pool Low Bid Appears $90,937

Christensen and Foster Construction Co., Santa Rosa, was apparent low bidder of five last night on the combined job of construction of a swimming pool and bath house for the Marinwood Community Services District with a bid of $90,937.

Two firms bid on the pool alone, with Hardy Pools, Walnut Creek, low at $47,500. One company, Cagwin and Dorward, San Rafael, bid $47,743 for the bath house and other non-pool features alone.

The contract is scheduled to be awarded at the district board's regular meeting on Thursday.

The board last night also heard a report on landscape maintenance and agreed to hire a park superintendent. Specifications for the new post, and salary, will be set at Thursday's meeting.

The Larkspur Recreation Commission Wednesday night voted to recommend to the city council that a street right of way at Orange and Tamalpais avenues be retained for park purposes.

Power steering is for cars that are hard to steer.
Heavy cars, with big front engines to push around.
With a rear-engined VW, you won't need power steering.
Or power brakes.
Or optional, higher-powered engines.
Which is just as well.

Because you can't avoid them, we don't charge any extra.
If you insist on paying more, we have a few things to offer:
A sunroof. Leatherette upholstery. A radio. Whitewall tires. A side-view mirror.
If that's still not enough, maybe you should look at something fancier.

Clausen To Name Land Study Group

Rep. Don H. Clausen (Crescent City) announced in Ukiah yesterday he will appoint a special advisory committee to study the overall land use problems on the North Coast.

He was keynote speaker at the Redwood Region Logging Conference there.

Clausen said the committee would study problems in the First Congressional District objectively, recognizing "the interests of conservation, forest products, recreation, mining, agriculture, local government, tax base, etc."

Budget Increase Seen For Dixie Schools

Supt. Dennie B. Willis presented Dixie School District trustees last night with a $1,968,236.87 proposed budget for the 1964-65 fiscal year, an increase of about $360,000 from the present year.

Asst. Supt. Joseph B. Goff told the board the main reason for the increase was the opening of two new schools, making a total of eight in the district.

The budget assumed about a 15 per cent increase in the number of pupils, but about an 18 per cent increase in assessed valuation. It calls for no increase in the district's tax rate, which this year totaled $3.03 per $100 assessed valuation.

Goff estimated assessed valuation of the district at about 30 million dollars, calling this a conservative guess. He said the major increase was in apartment and commercial construction.

He noted the budget assumed state aid will be increased by $12.50 per child. Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget proposes an increase of $15 per child, he said, but the legislature may cut that figure.

No across-the-board salary increase was proposed, but a change in the pay structure, expected to cost about $14,000, was presented. The change would hike top salaries from $9,750 a year to $10,000, while holding bottom salaries at the present level. A teacher would be able to reach the top level in 11 years, rather than 12 as at present.

Included was a little under $20,000 for books. A citizen subcommittee on the library recommended spending $21,450 as part of a program to bring the number of library books in each school up to 10 per pupil in five years. Goff said he felt with gifts, the level wished for this year would be reached with the proposed amount.

Included also was $20,000 for equipment for a full-scale foreign language program this fall. This would include tape recorders or a language laboratory, cost of which would be shared with national defense education act funds.

The budget also called for a second full-time librarian, and more library clerical help.

Of the total budget, $1,378,630 was earmarked for instruction, or $346.39 per child, compared to 313.34 per child this year. The increase came partly with the addition of resource teachers, allowing a drop in the average number of children per class from 28.3 to 27.6.

The number of classroom teachers proposed was raised from 119 to 140, mainly because of opening of the two new schools.

Requests from the staff for needed improvements for grounds and buildings totaled $30,000, Willis said, but was sliced to $19,000 before presentation last night. A proposed summer workshop was allowed $5,000.

The Dixie School District board also:

1. Approved changes in the specifications and called for new bids for construction of the Nova Albion School.
2. Approved purchase of a used automatic check signer.
3. Granted maternity leave to Mrs. Lois Schwab, and hired Mrs. Patricia Hosmer as a long-term substitute teacher to replace Mrs. Billie Bequette.

Trustee Melvin R. Stidham was absent.

Guilty Plea To Bombing Charge

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—William Sterling Rosecrans Jr., pleaded guilty today to federal charges filed in the bombing of a Negro child's home.

Rosecrans entered his plea at his arraignment before U.S. District Judge Bryan Simpson. Arraignment was scheduled later for four Ku Klux Klan officials arrested by the FBI in Jacksonville last night. A fifth man was arrested in Smyrna, Tenn.

Rosecrans and the other five men were accused of intimidating and theratening the 6-year-old Negro boy by plotting the Feb. 16 bombing.

Ramond King Toastmasters' Top Speaker

Ramond L. King, assistant advertising manager of the Independent-Journal, was named winner in a speech contest among Marin County Toastmaster Clubs last night at Tomahawk Lodge.

Speakers represented clubs in Novato, San Rafael, Kentfield and Hamilton Air Force Base. Charles S. West, a resident of San Rafael representing Kentfield Club, was chosen runner-up in the contest.

King, a resident of Marinwood, represented the Novato Club. He will compete in a division contest at Napa on April 7 among clubs from Vallejo, Napa, Lake County, Sonoma County and Marin County. The Napa contest will determine the speaker to represent the division at the district convention May 2 at Peacock Gap, one of the lead-off events for the "May in Marin" promotion of the Marin Visitors Bureau.

More than 500 Toastmasters are expected to attend the convention.

Natural Gas Survey Ready For San Geronimo Valley

Hope for lower heating bills next winter in the San Geronimo Valley loomed last night when 200 valley residents gathered at Lagunitas School to hear representatives of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. tell how natural gas could be delivered to the valley.

Last night's meeting, arranged b ythe San Geronimo Valley Business Men's Assn., brought representatives from all civic groups in the valley.

"Everyone was very enthusiastic," said E. L. Barnett of Forest Knolls, program chairman for the business men's association. "We agreed to get this thing started as quickly as we can."

The PG&E representatives who spoke were L. P. Biancalana, Marin district commercial supervisor, and K. E. Robin, North Bay division sales supervisor.

They said survey work has been done and right of way is available for a 10-inch main down the center of the valley. Where feasible there would be four-inch side mains leading into populated areas.

Barnett said the two men could not say when the service could be furnished, but those present agreed to do all they could to have it by next fall when heating bills start climbing again.

Most homes in the valley use LP gas. Barnett said his heating bill last month was $50. He said 6,500 cubic feet of bottled gas costs about $30, and the same amount of natural gas would cost $10.

Connection fees were explained last night. The company will take delivery lines to the property line and 35 feet onto the property without charge. The company will also convert all appliances from LP to natural gas.

First step in getting the service is completing a survey of the 1,000 homes in the valley to find how many are willing to use natural gas if available.

Survey sheets will be posted a Tarr's General Store in Woodacre; Yerion's Service Station in San Geronimo, Strout Realty in Forest Knolls and Kenny Burt Realty, Forest Knolls. The latter will have the survey list for Lagunitas.

Area chairman were also named: John T. Keilty for Woodacre, Sam Rouder for San Geronimo, Jean Bevans for Forest Knolls, and L. A. Moulton for Lagunitas.

Barnett said valley residents have tried for many years to get natural gas service. Previously the company always said there was no gas available.

HE'S 'BOSS OF THE YEAR'

Fred F. Enemark (left), executive vice president of Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., is given another hat to wear: that of "Boss of the Year," awarded by the Credit Women's Breakfast Club. Daniel C. Davis, vice president of Wells Fargo Bank, San Rafael, congratulates Enemark on his new title, bestowed on him by the club at a breakfast at Peacock Gap Country Club. An essay by Lila Haberman, a Marin County Savings and Loan employee, won the hat for Enemark.

Fire Causes $9,500 In Home Damage

An unusual chain of circumstances started a fire that caused $9,500 damage to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Covaia, 380 Oak Manor Drive, near Fairfax, at 12:51 p.m. yesterday.

An electric cord from the garage was draped across a stuffed chair for a sump pumping operation, the Marin County Fire Department reported.

A lighted bulb in the cord ignited the chair. The heat of the chair fire popped the living room windows and the fire spread to the living room.

The house was unoccupied at the time, but a mailman spotted the fire and reported it to a neighbor who called firemen.

Damage was estimated at $4,500 to personal belongings and $5,000 to the building. The fire burned living room furniture, carpeting and drapes, and caused extensive heat and smoke damage to the kitchen, firemen reported. Four units from the county fire department headquarters at Woodacre responded.

Personnel Session

Trustees of the Reed Union School District will hold a closed session to discuss evaluation of personnel on Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the district office at 1155 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon.

Academic Senate Gains At College

Constitution of a 15-member academic senate for College of Marin was approved by the Marin Junior College District board last night after sharp questioning by trustee Kent O. Seymour.

"I don't want the faculty to be going over the head of the administration and going directly to the board," said Seymour.

"We look forward to collaborating with the administration," said William Scalapino, psychology instructor and president of the faculty association. "We have no intent to usurp the legal power of the board. But if differences arose we'd hope we could express our own views."

Seymour grumbled last joined other trustees to make approval unanimous.

College president Stephen E. Epler said the idea of the senate came from the California Junior College Assn. He said the legislature passed a resolution recommending that two-year colleges form academic senates. Most four-year universities and colleges in California have such senates, said Epler.

Scalapino said he would proceed to organize the senate at College of Marin. The constitution was prepared by faculty members and the administration after corrections suggested by trustees Elizabeth M. Deedy and Robert E. Oliver.

The articles declare the senate will be an organization of faculty members for the "purpose of democratic participation of all of the faculty in the development of policies and procedures of the college."

Mayor Silva To Air Views

Mayor M. E. Babe Silva of Novato, candidate for re-election to the city council of Marin's newest (and second largest) city, is the second to take advantage of San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis's offer of free radio time to candidates.

Silva will present his case during the "McInnis Speaking" program on Radio KTIM at 12:15 p.m. Sunday. It will be repeated from a recording on KTIM-FM at 9 p.m. Monday.

McInnis, a candidate for county supervisor, offered facilities of his program to other candidates. First to take advantage of the offer was George D. Monardo, running for re-election to the Mill Valley City Council.

High-Rise Fighters Retain Belli Law Firm

The Terra Linda Valley Property Owners Assn. has retained Melvin Belli's law firm to carry on its fight against a huge high-rise apartment development on a hill bordering the Northgate Shopping Center.

Seymour L. Ellison, a partner in the firm of Belli, Ashe and Gerry, will appear at the San Rafael City Council meeting at 8 p.m. Monday to protest proposed zoning of 82.622 acres between Nova Albion Way and Northgate Drive as "planned community" for 1,186 apartment units. Belli, himself, is in Dallas defending Jack Ruby, on trial for the murder of Robert Lee Oswald, the alleged assassin of President Kennedy.

Robert F. Loberg, president of the Terra Linda Valley Property Owners Assn., said Ellison, a resident of the Terra Linda area, has been associated with the Belli firm since 1960. Partners Lou Ashe and Richard F. Gerry also reside in Marin.

"It is indeed unfortunate when the citizens of San Rafael are asked to sacrifice the basic character of the neighborhood in order to appease the thirst for profit of a corporate giant," declared Ellison. "I feel that the whole story has not been presented to the public by proponents of this plan. This certainly will be done at the hearing."

The council Monday will hold its public hearing on the Draper Companies' appeal from planning commission turndown of the zoning, which includes the plan for the huge apartments. An earlier petition for 1,200 units on the same property was rejected by both planning commission and council.

Library Bond Aides Named

Paul E. Rosenthal was named Wednesday night as chairman of the citizens committee for the $325,000 bond campaign for a proposed new Mill Valley library.

Rosenthal, who lives at 24 Nelson Avenue, is a consulting engineer in San Francisco.

Harold Marquis of 56 Upland Avenue will head the community relations committee. He is with the San Francisco advertising firm of Hoffer, Dieterich and Brown Inc. Heading the neighborhood committee is Mrs. Larry Symmes.

Most of the 30 persons who attended the meeting signed up for committees, said Mrs. John P. Farnham, library board president.

Doctor's Bag Stolen —Contains Narcotics

Dr. Bernard J. Conroy of San Anselmo reported to San Rafael police at 8:15 p.m. yesterday that his bag, containing narcotics, was stolen from his car while it was parked at San Rafael General Hospital.

Police said the left wing window of the car had been pried open with a long, thin metal instrument.

Government payrolls increased to 59.3 billion dollars last year, 3.7 billion dollars above 1962, according to the National Consumer Finance Assn. Three-fifths of this expansion occurred in state and local government.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

The Old Idea Of Marin Smog Immunity Dies Hard

"Dr. Clarice H. Haylett, Marin County Health Officer, warned that although Marin is not yet bothered by smog, indications point to a start soon if there are more open fires and automobile exhaust fumes."

Do you recall that item in the REMEMBER WHEN — 10 Years Ago column on this page a few weeks back?

It provoked old memories.

Twelve or 15 years ago the Independent-Journal carried its first editorial warning of the threat of smog.

The first time an I-J representative showed up at a board of supervisors meeting, thereafter, he was greeted with derisive laughter.

Those who wish to hear the same laughter should listen to Bob Newhart's conversation with Sir Walter Raleigh.

"Wally," you may recall, tries to explain about this dried leaf that you crumble, light and inhale its smoke. (It was called tobacco.) After Newhart laughs that one down, "Wally" tries to interest Newhart in a boatload of beans out of which you brew a hot drink. (It was called coffee.)

A recording of Newhart's derisive reaction to these nutty ideas (for products called coffee and tobacco) is a reasonably accurate representation of the board of supervisors reaction to that first warning that the threat of smog in Marin ought to be dealt with while it would still be relatively easy to meet and beat.

Now we know that each summer we have an increasing number of smoggy-sky days. And those who fly occasionally to Los Angeles and return the same day are aware of the not-too-unusual phenomenon which finds Bay Area skies much more smoggy than Los Angeles skies on a given day.

"But our ocean breezes provide a natural guarantee that smog will never become the problem here that it is in Los Angeles."

That was the standard rejoinder.

Back in the 1920s and 30s there was a similar rejoinder in southern California, too.

The idea that Marin and the Bay Area are immune to smog is NOT any longer universally accepted. More and more people are becoming aware of and concerned about the problem.

But the old idea that we are immune dies hard.

Those Dirty Birds

As is well known in bird circles, we yield to no one in our love for our feathered friends. The Lady of our house has some different ideas, however.

When the birds are naughty and dirty the car or the clothes on the line, she tells us what "your birds" have done. "Our birds" are the bad guys who pick and peck at the sprouting garden and later strip the berry vines.

We have neither starlings, pigeons nor gulls in our neighborhood, but we do have our share of careless, dirty birds. As a friend once told us about marriage, "You will have to take the bitter with the sweet."

The birds aren't all pleasure, but the assets in pleasure which they provide far outweigh the liabilities in the form of bad behavior.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

As GOP Meets In Fresno, Barry And Rocky Fans Trade Pot Shots

By WAT TAKESHITA

TAKESHITA

THE SAME QUESTION keeps popping up—to endorse or not to endorse?

First it was the Democrats, who endorsed Alan Cranston for U.S. Senate at Long Beach and sent bitter repercussions up and down the state.

This weekend, it's the Republicans in Fresno. The California Republican Assembly opened its annual convention at the Hacienda Hotel there today. Both Nelson A. Rockefeller and Barry Goldwater will be speaking to the Assembly this weekend.

ARDENT FOLLOWERS of Goldwater are making a pitch for endorsement of their candidate.

The San Rafael, Mill Valley and Corte Madera units of the Republican Assembly have passed resolutions calling for endorsement.

But the moderates are taking the position that an endorsement will only widen the rift between Rocky and Barry forces.

SENATE MINORITY Leader Jack McCarthy and Assemblyman Bill Bagley will both be in Fresno to urge delegates not to endorse. As individuals, both McCarthy and Bagley have come out for Rockefeller, but they feel a pre-primary endorsement by a collective group such as the Republican Assembly would be unwise. They urge Republicans to wait until the GOP nominee is picked in San Francisco, then close ranks for a solid front in November.

Meanwhile, the two groups continue taking pot shots at each other.

For example, Marin Goldwater fans are patting themselves on the back for a "completely voluntary" signature campaign to put Barry on the June ballot, whereas the Rockefeller camp had paid petition circulators getting 35 cents per signature.

THE RECEPTION for U. S. Senate aspirant Lee Kaiser Tuesday night in Corte Madera drew a substantial crowd. We just popped in and out and never did find out exactly who the local chairman was for the reception and exactly who we have to thank for the nice spread of eats and refreshments.

DID YOU KNOW that Mrs. Alice K. Leopold, a teacher at Katharine Branson School, was assistant to the Secretary of Labor during the Eisenhower administration? She led a group of students on a tour of the State Capitol Tuesday.

THE BIG supervisor race between Byron Leydecker and John McInnis may go into the November runoff, now that a third man has entered the picture.

If the race between the two is as close as predicted, then the third candidate, Orlando Conti, might pull just enough votes to prevent either Leydecker or McInnis from getting a clear majority.

Novato Seeks Fire Survey

The Novato Fire District board Wednesday asked the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau to start a survey of the Novato Fire District on June 1 to see if the district can get a lower insurance rating.

This was done after Fire Chief George Cavallero reported the new fire alarm system should be completed in May.

The district now has a class five rating for the built-up part of the city.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Sorry To Hear That Connolly's Back

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have just read, with sincere regrets, in the sporting section of your paper, that John Connolly would soon be back on the job. Some of us are very sorry to hear this. We were hoping that he would be gone for good.

I do not feel that either he or his blood brother McCabe from one of the morning papers are "sportsmen" in the true sense of the word. They should both be sent to Santa Anita to cover the horse races, or perhaps to Vietnam to cover that situation.

Disloyal To Oppose Sen. Goldwater?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In your editorial yesterday (Mar. 5), you stated California could still have a proportion of "progressive Republicans of the Earl Warren and Tom Kuchel stripe." You used the term Republican in a most unadvised manner when you used it in connection with Warren and Kuchel. You fail to realize (or you refuse to) that, like in the Democratic party, there is a vast difference between loyal American Republicans and Democrats and those of the Warren - Kuchel - Brown-Burton-Cranston-Mosk-Roosevelt stripe.

They may be "progressive," all right, along the Marxist style, but their style is far from being American.

Given (Lord forbid) a --- senator like Roosevelt and this Burton, whom Brown so heartily endorsed, and whose first act was to try to stop any further appropriation for the House Un-American Activities Commission, and we will have a branch office of the Kremlin right in Washington, D. C. Not so long ago the folks down south of here came out with bumper strips asking is Brown red? Folks up here got indignant. Still Brown backed Burton, knowing full well what he is like, and now he's backing Cranston for senator, and he has the unmitigated gall to tell us we all should vote for a man who, like Burton, is out to kill the Un-American Commission and for admission of Red China.

And when any American objects to any of this he's a Bircher!

If your paper is only one quarter as loyal to your country as you would have us think it is, then you start plugging for Goldwater, and let the Rockefellers and the Cranstons and the Kuchels alone.

Control, Not Economy Aim Of Unruh Plan

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Speaker Jesse (small man) Unruh has suggested, under the guise of economy, another step in the plan for the government to take over complete control of education.

If he is truly interested in saving money for education itself, why doesn't he propose a plan that would lessen state control.

Were it not for the states unrealistic specifications for buildings, hardware, space, design, and all the other controls over school construction, millions of dollars could be saved in building and site costs and there would be enough class rooms. One of the finest, sturdiest school buildings in Marin County was built by the College of Marin some years ago without state aid. Had the district needed state help on this building, it would not have been built because the state would not have approved the plans.

The true issue behind Unruh's bill, AB 46, is not economy in but more control of education.

Give Alcatraz Back To Indians

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Hooray for the Sioux Indians! I hope they do get Alcatraz Island for their own. They certainly have as much right to it as anybody if not far more, according to their treaty of 1868, unless this is one more document in their favor which the U. S. Government wishes to bypass. I hope they get it FREE, view and all. There were plenty of views of their own, much more beautiful than this one, taken away from them during the last century.

From the beginning of American history, the American Indians, and especially the Indians of the west—the Northern and Southern Cheyenne nations, the Navajo Indians, and the Nez Perces, among many, many others—were persecuted, hunted down to their deaths, gypped, swindled, and starved to death. This country can never begin to make up to them for all they suffered and lost. It is true that they fought back bitterly and savagely. Would we have done less, in their place? How few people really tried to help them.

How fitting and right if the government did give them Alcatraz, free and clear, for whatever purpose they desired.

A MISSIONARY deep in the jungle came upon a witch doctor who was pounding his drum furiously. "What gives?" asked the missionary with some trepidation. "We have no water," explained the witch doctor. "So you're praying for rain?" ventured the missionary. "Not at all," snapped the witch doctor. "I'm sending for the plumber"

A CENSUS TAKER was spending the night deep in the West Virginia mountains with a native and his son. After a long silence the native spoke up: "Junior, step outside there and see if it's raining." Junior, without stirring, replied, "Better'n that, paw, you just call the dog in and see if he's wet."

CAPTAIN V. R. Fernandes recalls the day a 200-man army group arrived to begin training as parachutists in an airborne outfit. A tough major welcomed the already apprehensive newcomers with a crisp, "So you're gonna be parachutists, hey? Fine! Your jump training will be conducted in three stages. The first week, we'll separate the men from the boys. The second week we'll separate the boys from the idiots. And the third week we'll let all you idiots jump!"

Japan Is Becoming Most Powerful Asian Nation, Bastion Against Reds

TOKYO—In the span of a few weeks the Japanese government will have received four members of the United States Cabinet including Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, President Charles de Gaulle's premier, George Pompidou, British Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler, President Sukarno of Indonesia and the Swedish foreign minister.

And more are coming.

This stream of dignitaries in and out of Tokyo is just one of many indications of the expansive role which Japan is playing in world affairs.

Japan is now making itself the most powerful Asian nation by virtue of its economic strength and political stability.

WE SHOULD never forget that the most powerful bulwark to freedom in the entire Pacific is modern Japan — independent, democratic and dependable.

Japan's contribution is three-fold:

Its democratic government —moving forward with sure step—is the best possible showcase of how a free Asian people can govern themselves.

Japan's tremendous economic progress with a 9 per cent growth rate for a decade —highest in the world—is the best possible demonstration of how a free-enterprise economy can produce the highest living standards for its people.

And now Japan is steadily expanding the volume of its economic aid to other Asian nations in order to do its part to bridge the gap between the developing countries and the more industrially advanced.

FOR SEVERAL years now, Japan's economic assistance to the developing countries has amounted to about 382 million dollars yearly.

The Japanese government is in the process of expanding the level of its economic aid. It is Tokyo's plan to triple its foreign economic assistance by 1970.

One vital step remains for Japan to take. It needs to amend its constitution — as many of its political leaders are now urging it to do—in order that it may possess sufficient military forces to protect itself from aggression and to join in the peace-keeping defenses of the Pacific and elsewhere.

THE SELF-DENYING ban in the Japanese constitution, holding land, sea and air forces to a minute level, has been overrun by events — the Korean War, the cold war and the overhanging military power of Red China.

"A peril to the free world anywhere, whether in Berlin or Cuba or South Vietnam," one of the highest Japanese officials told me, "is a peril to Japan."

Japan is today a powerful economic and political partner in the free world alliance. Tomorrow it can become a strong partner in the common defense wherever aggression threatens.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

'Fanatics' Reportedly Plot To Kill Johnson

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The Secret Service and FBI are keeping under close scrutiny a "group of fanatics" credited with plotting the assassination of President Lyndon B. Johnson and a number of others.

The other targets include Chief Justice Earl Warren, Martin Luther King, the Negro leader, and unnamed Catholic and Jewish leaders.

The Catholic is believed to be Speaker John McCormack (Mass.), next in line of succession for the presidency. Recently, the head of a government security agency told the veteran congressional leader that the Communists consider him their "No. 1 opponent" in the U.S.

THE REPUTED murder plot against the president was the real reason for the extraordinary measures taken to protect him during his recent Florida trip.

Published reports about a suspected "Cuban suicide pilot" were purposely leaked to the press as a strategem to divert attention from the extensive precautions taken by the Secret Service and FBI.

As reported to the FBI and Secret Service, the alleged attempt on the president's life was to have been made in Florida.

There was no indication of the place and timing of the reputed murder attacks on Chief Justice Warren, McCormack, King and others.

WARREN has been the target of threats from the extreme right and left since becoming chairman of the special commission investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

A mysterious telephone conversation between Florida and Washington activated authorities.

The Florida caller told his Washington listener that he had heard a newly-organized "group of fanatics" was planning to kill the president, Chief Justice Warren, Reverend King, and a notable Catholic and leading Jew. Also that the attempt against the president would be made when he visited Florida.

A TELEPHONE operator overheard part of the discussion and informed the FBI. The call was traced and the two individuals interrogated.

It developed that neither was connected with the alleged assassination plot. But information was elicited that has enabled the security agencies to put a number of individuals in various parts of the country under scrutiny.

GEORGE REEDY, bulky long-time press assistant to President Johnson, is in a Washington hospital undergoing a tough reducing regimen. He is doing that at the instance of an unusual specialist — his boss, the president. Reedy entered the hospital for a physical check-up. Johnson visited him, and suggested it would be a good time for Reedy to cut down his considerable excess weight.

Washington book stores have a flood of orders for the first new book on President Johnson, "Lyndon B. Johnson: A Biography," by Harry Provence, long-time personal friend and prominent Texas editor. Provence worked on the biography for several years. The book goes on sale later this month, and appears a certain best seller.

Dixie School District Area May Become Area Of Tail Wagging Dog

DEEP IN THE HEART of Dixie's School District, there is an outspoken animosity toward the "powers that be" of San Rafael.

There is dissatisfaction about San Rafael's schools, recreation program, planning and road maintenance, to name a few items. There are even complaints about San Rafael's taxes. They are too low.

All this might be called an expression of the "Dixie syndrome." (Syndrome is a big word these days.) The area which includes Terra Linda, Lucas Valley and Marinwood contains a growing number of people of about the same income, age group, number of children and educational level.

Not surprisingly, these people think pretty much alike. They have the largest part of their total assets tied up in their homes, and pay through the nose in taxes on this property. Yet, it is easy as pie to push through a school bond issue, or even to raise funds for a community swimming pool.

THEY LOOK DOWN their noses at San Rafael, considering it some sort of decadent antebellum community which someday might wake up. In the meantime, they don't want much to do with it.

The Terra Linda area created a special district to keep the city from annexing the area. Parts of Terra Linda were annexed, and people there have shown a not-very-quiet desperation, especially over planning.

Because of a wierd provision of the San Rafael City Charter, these people within the city in Terra Linda have not really had much chance to make themselves felt within the city. But a council candidate is likely to come out of the area for the next city election.

HE MIGHT EVEN win, if the Terra Linda annexation homes turn out the voters in huge percentages, and they "one-shot" for their candidate, while the rest of the city shows its usual apathy.

THE DIXIE SCHOOL District looks with horror at the idea of unification which might include the San Rafael schools. Last night, a special committee of the Dixie School District, which is replete with committees, reported an 8-3 vote against unification.

THE BIG ARGUMENT against annexation is that the present programs, such as recreation and swimming pools, would be "watered down" to the level now supplied within the city.

The argument against unification, is that the school program of the Dixie district, including special teachers, resource teachers, special curriculum consultants, and other modern programs, might also be watered down.

THERE ACTUALLY IS a serious question whether anything would actually be watered down. There is a question whether the areas now on the outside, as it were, might not end up running the whole show.

The interest is in the northern area. People there turn out for elections. People there vote to raise tax rates. People there participate in new programs. People there think pretty much alike. People there can be organized.

The whole idea might be a little frightening in San Rafael.

Senators Rejoice That Baker May Enter Politics–And Leave Capital!

WASHINGTON — Bobby Baker revealed the other day that he has political ambitions and might consider running for public office—even governor of South Carolina. Many people have been critical of Baker for taking the Fifth Amendment during the senatorial hearings, but now we know why he did it. He wanted to go into politics, and as he so ably stated it, "I didn't want to incriminate myself."

Those of us who have been urging Baker to run were most gratified that he would consider himself a candidate. As so many rich men have done before him, he has chosen to shun the world of finance to give his life to public service.

As Chairman of the District of Columbia Draft Bobby Baker for Governor Committee, we have started our grass roots movement.

OUR COMMITTEE'S slogan is: "If Baker is elected, there will be a vending machine in every home." We promise the voters that a Baker victory will mean bank loans without collateral, free stereo sets for the aged, a Haitian steak in every pot, legal gambling, and the greatest motel system of any state in the Union.

Our candidate, who has been a field marshal in the war on poverty, is appealing to the electorate on his record of experience in the Senate.

To get our campaign underway we decided to have a fund-raising dinner at the Quorum Club for Bobby Baker. But when we called him to ask him if he would attend, he said, "Forget the fund-raising dinner. How much do you need?"

THIS IS typical of the man we would like to see head of the great sovereign state of South Carolina. He cannot be bought because he has all the money he needs; he can't be pressured by friends because he has very few friends; he cannot be influenced by private interests because Bobby Baker is a man of the people.

It is expected that if Bobby Baker runs for governor of South Carolina, half the Senate, as well as many officials in the Administration, will campaign for him. As one Senator put it to us, "We'll do anything to get Baker out of Washington."

Besides support from the Senate, we have received pledges from insurance companies, land investment syndicates, lobbyists, and Las Vegas businessmen who said that they were ready to jump on the Baker bandwagon.

HE EVEN has an amazing amount of support from northern politicians. One civil rights advocate told us, "South Carolina deserves Bobby Baker."

So you can see Baker was not whistling in the dark when he said he thought he had a chance if he went into politics. Everyone we talked to said they would like to see Baker's hat in the ring.

To put the campaign in swing, we're hoping to arrange a television debate between Baker and Carole Tyler, with Senate committee counsel Lennox Polk McClendon as moderator.

It would give the voters a chance to decide for themselves if Bobby Baker isn't the best man for the job.

The museum of the Marin County Historical Society was filled to capacity yesterday when it was opened by Parker Wood, curator, because of a special request from Lagunitas School.

The museum, which is open to the public Wednesday, Friday and Saturday afternoons, was visited by four teachers at the Lagunitas School and 60 of their pupils from 11 a.m. to noon.

Wood gave a brief summary of Marin County history and explained the historical importance of the articles and pictures on display at the museum.

The Election Year School Financing Battle Commences

Unruh Calls Opponents To His Plan Ungraceful Witch Doctors

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature's election-year school financing battle is on, with members of the education "establishment" targets of the first broadside, aimed by Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh.

"Old witch doctors do not give in gracefuly," the Los Angeles Democrat commented yesterday in lashing out at opponents of his bill to reduce the number of state school districts from 1,583 to 108.

Unruh led off proponents of his measure in the first hearing before the Assembly Education Committee of many school financing reform plans before the lawmakers.

The opposition gets its say in the hearing room next week.

A crowd of about 350 that overflower into another room listened while the speaker blasted "the education establishment" as "more frightened of the cure than the disease."

"They are threatened by something new that did not originate with them. They will try to frighten the tribe and they will conjure up visions of awesome destruction.

"Judge them not by what they say. Their actions tell a different story. Their focus is not on what is best for our youth. Their focus is on political control, maintaining their vested interests and their jobs. As a result, little children suffer."

That last was a reference to the book, "Suffer, Little Children," by Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, who doesn't favor the Unruh proposal.

Without naming Rafferty, the speaker obviously referred to him when he called it "almost beyond belief that the man who carries responsibility for the entire system of public education in California . . . reacted negatively" to the proposal.

The Unruh measure provides 74.5 million dollars in new state aid to schools from kindergarten through high school, and anticipates saving 57 million dollars from the drastic reorganization it would entail.

The 108 districts remaining would include 50 already in charter cities and a district covering each of the state's 58 counties. The bill would take effect starting with the 1965-66 school year.

Its enactment would mean, on the average, 10 to 15 per cent more school money available to each student, Unruh estimated.

Unruh listed three major benefits of the bill:

QUALITY—Larger districts provide better education for more children.

EQUITY—"The price of education should be equitably borne by all . . . and not at the special expense of some, generally those least able to pay."

ECONOMY—The bigger the district, the easier it is to cut costs and maximize the school taxpayer's dollar.

T. S. Knight, speaking for the California Manufacturers Assn., echoed the last point. "We're going to have to reorganize the structure of the uneconomical districts that now exist," he commented. His group prefers Unruh's bill over the status quo, Knight added.

Long Beach, State Oil Solution Near

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Only "a relatively small difference of opinion" stands in the way of an agreement between the state and city of Long Beach on how to split revenues from offshore oil fields.

The way appeared open for a compromise to solve what has become a hotly debated issue.

A joint statement by State Finance Director Hale Champion and Long Beach City Manager John R. Mansell yesterday said that while there was some disagreement remaining, it was minor.

Thus, it added, "we prefer to have settled through the legislative process." The disagreements "involve . . . the division of the proceeds and a difference of opinion on the handling of appeals on the subsidence decision to be made by the city."

However, a Senate special committee reiterated its backing of legislation to revoke the trust the city has over the oil territory, the income from which is divided 50-50 between the state and city.

The senators again declared that the estimated 2 billion dollars the tidelands will produce in the next 25 to 35 years should go entirely to the state for statewide needs.

They also contended the city spent $600,000 in oil money illegally "to build an office building for a private firm," and said another $1.25 million is due to be expended to prepare a site for another firm.

Long Beach Republican Assemblyman C. George Deukmejian replied that revoking the oil trust would waste everyone's money.

ROCKEFELLER RIPS DEMO AID TO REDS

Administration Provides Springboard For Communist Initiative, He Says

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller charged the Democratic national administration today with providing a "springboard for Communist initiative in every corner of the world."

Rockefeller, on a campaign swing in the California presidential primary contest, said Democratic administration's record of failure in providing free world leadership."

The New York governor, who is seeking the Republican nomination for president, commented in a speech prepared for delivery to students at the University of Southern California.

While hitting at Democrats, Rockefeller also was concerned with a behind-the-scenes struggle within his own party.

The governor and his campaign advisers complained privately about plans of the Texas Republican State Committee to enter his name in their primary May 2 despite Rockefeller's efforts to stay out of that contest.

The Rockefeller forces see the Texas voting as a certain victory for Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who has strong support among Texas Republicans. One Rockefeller strategist described the GOP leadership in that state as "a Goldwater organization."

Rockefeller expressed privately the view that the plan for a test vote in Texas, which was decided upon by the GOP leadership there Monday night, was a move to set up a victory for Goldwater.

Meanwhile, the governor continued the campaign swing that will take him today from Los Angeles to Fresno. He will return to New York tomorrow.

Last night, Rockefeller shook hands for three hours at a public reception here. Aides estimated he greeted nearly 4,000 persons and they reported several hundred more had been unable to reach the reception because of traffic congestion at the scene.

Worker Gets Five Days In Bar Dispute

Robert J. Palmer, 32 construction worker charged with assaulting a San Rafael bartender who refused to serve him Monday night, was sentenced in Marin Municipal Court to five days in jail yesterday on his plea of guilty.

Palmer, who gave 1423 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, as his address, was accused by James Walter Simpkins, bartender at Club Moderne, 804 Fourth Street, of knocking him off a bar stool while he sat with a customer in that bar.

Committee Heads, Judges Named

John Wooley, president of the Tamalpais High School student body, has appointed the following students as committee heads and judges for the spring term:

Clyde Yamamoto, Mill Valley, student government; Mike Davalos, Sausalito, judicial; Jill Roscan, Mill Valley, publicity; Donna Todd, Mill Valley, election survey; Daniel Rein, Mill Valley, by-laws; Bill Hall, Sausalito, social committee.

Judges are Carl Wooley, Sausalito, freshman; Ernie Bergman, sophomore; Will Stubblebine, junior, and Dave Locey, senior, all of Mill Valley.

Harold Stassen Is Tagging Right Along

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Harold E. Stassen, who plans to make California's Republican Presidential primary a three-man contest, says he's optimistic about his chances for the GOP nomination.

Stassen, 56, a former governor of Minnesota, told a news conference yesterday that his supporters are completing the paperwork to put him in the June 2 California primary.

Already in the race are Arizona Sens. Barry Goldwater and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Stassen said his platform, briefly, is that America "should move forward along the broad middle way, avoiding the extremes on both sides."

He listed atheism, Birchism and Communism as the ABC's of danger for the Republican Party. Should he become the GOP nominee, Stassen said, he will seek legal action to bar adherents of these philosophies from running for office under the Republican banner.

Stassen, who now heads a Philadelphia law firm, disclosed that he has asked Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown to keep controversial housing legislation—an initiative to repeal the Rumford Act—off the June primary ballot.

He stressed that he favors civil rights legislation, but he said also that he feels the California primary will be one of the most important in the nation this year.

Tobacco was the first legal tender of the Virginia colony, according to the Chase Manhattan Bank Money Museum.

San Rafael No Match For Irish In Tournament

By JIM GILMARTIN

San Rafael's Bulldogs, their tails between their legs, returned to Berkeley this afternoon in an attempt to salvage some of their battered prestige in the 18th annual Tournament of Champions, Northern California's blue ribbon high school basketball classic.

Thoroughly humiliated by the classic Sacred Heart Irish of San Francisco, 72-50, in yesterday's opening round, the Marin County Athletic League representatives were to meet the North Bay League's Napa Indians in the losers' bracket at 4:30 today. Napa was whipped by Hayward, 57-36, yesterday, while other results saw Fremont of the Oakland League smash Albany, 53-30, and Harry Ells of Richmond clout Salinas 63-47. It was a lopsided opening round.

Following the San Rafael-Napa duel this afternoon, it will be Salinas vs. Albany at 6 o'clock in the losers' bracket; Sacred Heart vs. Hayward at 7:30 and Ells vs Fremont at 9 in championship semi-finals. Tomorrow's schedule: Consolation finals, 5 p.m.; third place, 7:30; championship, 8:30.

Sacred Heart and Ells are figured to meet for the championship.

At the start of the tourney San Rafael stayed in Sacred Heart's class for exactly 2 minutes, 45 seconds as foul shots by Rod Monti and Steve Spurling and a 25-foot jump shot by Spurling had the Bulldogs even-up at 4-4. But then the Irish went on a rampage of 11 straight points for a 15-4 first-quarter lead and lengthened it to 38-16 at half, featured by a 16-0 spree during the second session.

San Rafael went scoreless for 5 minutes and 15 seconds in the first period and 3 minutes, 55 seconds in the second stanza while the Irish were driving through and around the befuddled Bulldogs with perfectly executed patterns which saw them connect on a blistering 59 per cent of their floor shots in the first half.

The Irish, with Joe Callaghan (20), S.F. Player of the Year Bob Heaney (18) and John Pezzolo (15) leading the scoring and little All-City guard Vance DeVost wowing the 2,750 fans with his floor play and passing, maintained the 22-point spread through the last two quarters. The margin grew to 29 points at the start of the third period, 45-16, and was 66-40 with one minute 59 seconds remaining when Irish Coach Jerry Phillips, participating in his fourth consecutive T of C, relieved his first string—or called off the wolves, as it were.

Monti, the San Rafael ace who sprained his ankle during the regular season, was still not able to maneuver with his early-season success, and wound up with only one point, the first of the game. He missed all six of his floor shots and sat on the bench for much of the second quarter and most of the second half.

Though badly outclassed, San Rafael showed some moments of brightness. Center John McKinnon, a consistent standout all year, fought off swarming Irishmen for 17 rebounds, high for the game, and tallied 15 points; 9 were from the foul line to the delight of Coach Mike Diaz who as a player in 1953 set the T of C single game free throw record of 13.

Wade Roberts contributed 13 points to the Bulldog cause and reserve guard Ken Erdman 9. Seven of the bespectacled Erdman's points came in a 30 second span late in the game on a fast break, a layup, a hook shot from the edge of the key and a charity toss as the busy Bulldog gave the otherwise dejected S.R. rooting section of some 250 red and white clad students something to cheer about.

San Rafael hit only a cool 31 per cent of its floor shots against the sticky Irish defense. The winners wound up with 52.2 pct. accuracy after the red hot 59 pct. pace in the first half.

This afternoon San Rafael was to meet Napa for the third time this season. The Bulldogs, with Monti healthy then and averaging better than 20 points a game, beat Napa both previous times, 61-60 and 48-43.

FIRES—MISSES—San Rafael's Rod Monti (42) lets loose with a left-handed hook shot over guard of Sacred Heart's Bob Heaney (33) during first quarter. The crippled Monti missed all six of his field goal attempts and sat on the bench much of the game. (Independent-Journal photos)

John Boccabella Beats Giants 4-3

Independent-Journal Sports

Independent-Journal, Friday, March 13, 1964 17

BOCC'S OUT THIS TIME—John Boccabella of San Rafael, Chicago Cub hero yesterday in the 4-3 win over the Giants, is tagged out at the plate by S.F. catcher Del Crandall in the fourth inning after being thrown out by Willie Mays. Boccabella tried to score from second on a line drive single by Don Eaddy. After Crandall put on the tag, he threw to second to cut down Eaddy for a double play. Standing behind the play at the plate is Merritt Ranew of the Cubs. (AP Wirephoto)

His Homer, Single Lead Chicago Win

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — It would seem the University of Santa Clara neglected to teach John Boccabella (of San Rafael) the proper respect for the property of its trustees, one in particular.

The 1963 graduate slammed a home run and drove in the winning tally with a 10th inning single yesterday to give the Chicago Cubs a 4-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants who hadn't been previously defeated in Cactus League baseball play this year.

Now the Giants, as is well known, are headed by President Horace Stoneham who also happens to be a trustee of Santa Clara.

BIG CONTRACTS

In 1962 when the Broncos of Santa Clara were runners-up nationally among college baseball teams, the heralded stars were Bob Garbaldi, a sophomore pitcher, and Ernie Fazio, a junior shortstop. Both signed big bonus contracts with major league clubs — Garibaldi for $150,000 with the Giants and Fazio for $70,000 with the Houston Colts.

First sacker Boccabella chose to finish school since he had only one year left. He starred for the Broncos again last spring and then signed with the Cubs for the relatively small sum of about $20,000.

Boccabella is currently batting .533 in the spring games with three homers.

He may make true major league status before either Garibaldi or Fazio.

In any event, the Giants won't see him for the next 10 days as their next meeting with the Cubs comes on March 21. Today the San Franciscans were to play host to Boston with right-hander Jack Sanford seeking to pitch five full innings.

The loss to the Cubs also cost the Giants exclusive leadership of the Cactus League as they now share the top spot with Chicago, each with 4-1 records.

ALOU HOMER

Jesus Alou hit his first major league homer yesterday—an eighth inning solo blast after the Giants trailed 2-0. Then hits by Jim Hart, Chuck Hiller and Jose Pagan in the ninth put San Francisco ahead.

The Cubs tied it on ninth inning singles by Ellis Burton and Dale Long plus Bob Will's sacrifice fly.

Jim Duffalo pitched the 7th, 8th and 9th for the Giants but was relieved by rookie Al Stanek when Jim Stewart walked to open the tenth. Stanek walked the bases full and then Boccabella drilled a single into left center.

His solo homer had come at the expense of Ken MacKenzie, his second of the spring off the Giants' new lefty.

Garibaldi, meanwhile, worked four innings against the Boston Red Sox "B" team in a 2-2 tie.

When he finished his two-run performance, Manager Alvin Dark indicated that Bob wouldn't be in the majors this year when he said:

"He's getting his pitches over, particularly his change of pace, and after he goes out for another year he'll be a real good major league pitcher."

NCAA REGIONALS TONIGHT

Mighty UCLA On Spot

By HOWARD APPLEGATE

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI)—UCLA, on the spot as favorite for the national title, meets surprising Seattle and high scoring Utah State plays red-hot San Francisco tonight in the Western NCAA basketball regionals.

The survivor here gets a berth in next Friday's semi-finals in Kansas City.

"Our kids are very happy to get a chance to play UCLA," said Seattle Coach Bob Boyd. "Everyone in the West knew they'd have to beat UCLA to get out of the regionals, and we might as well play them first."

Seattle, now 21-5 stunned this Oregon State University city Tuesday night by upsetting the fifth-ranked Beavers 61-57 at Eugene.

UCLA won 26 straight, was voted the nation's top team, and its coach, John Wooden, was picked coach of the year.

Coach Pete Peletta's San Francisco Dons finished with a rush after a slow start. Led by Big Ollie Johnson, the Dons swept to the West Coast Athletic Conference crown and won their last 18 in a row. They are 22-4 for the season.

FINAL ON TV

The final game of the NCAA Western Regional Basketball championships will be telecast live tomorrow night at 9 o'clock by KTVU (Channel 2).

Form calls for a UCLA-San Francisco western showdown tomorrow night. But San Francisco has a tough hurdle in independent Utah State, which has a 21-6 mark. The Aggies' 6-6 Wayne Estes has a 29-point plus scoring average and center Troy Collier, 6-9, has a 21-point average.

Utah State got here by edging Arizona State, the last team to beat UCLA.

UCLA is determined to justify its national ranking. The Bruins reached the semi-finals two seasons ago and lost by two points to the eventual champion, Cincinnati. Then last season Arizona State upset the Bruins in the western regionals.

Wooden said UCLA has played up to its capabilities this season "better than any team I've ever coached." All-American Walt Hazzard and Gail Goodrich, the nation's top-rated college guard pair, spark the Bruins.

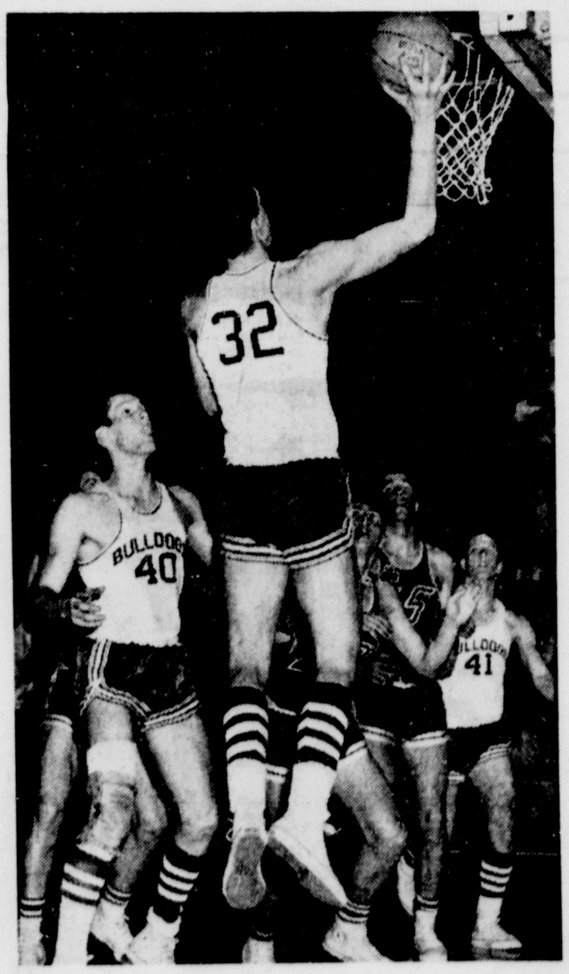

Boyd, commenting on Seattle's chances of pulling the upset of the year, said his team "will have to get the ball up court without turning it over against their press and giving them easy shots."

The Seattle skipper added, "We have the speed they do but they are stronger physically on the boards." He indicated he may start both of his big men—John Tresvant and L. J. Wheeler—for more back board strength. They played only a few minutes at the same time against Oregon State Tuesday.

Boyd saw UCLA play once this season. "They beat California," he said "by about 30 points. I was impressed."

The San Francisco-Utah State game starts at 7:30 p.m. and the UCLA-Seattle game at 9:30. Tomorrow night's games will start half an hour earlier, at 7 and 9.

Other NCAA regionals tonight: Mideast at Minneapolis, Minn.—Chicago Loyola vs. Michigan, Kentucky vs. Ohio U.; East at Raleigh, N.C.—Duke vs. Villanova, Princeton vs. Connecticut; Midwest at Wichita, Kan.—Wichita vs. Creighton, Texas Western vs. Kansas State.

CLEAR SHOT—Pat Haven (32) of San Rafael made good on this fourth quarter shot, one of few clear shots Bulldogs had against the defensively tough Sacred Heart team. Bulldog star John McKinnon is No. 40 and Rich Ahern (41).

No '13th' Woes For Warriors

It may be Friday the 13th, but things were going mighty well for the San Francisco Warriors today.

They bounced around a tired Baltimore club, 125-102, last night at University of San Francisco gym to move two games up on the St. Louis Hawks with four contests left in regular season play for both squads.

San Francisco hosts the Los Angeles Lakers tonight at the Cow Palace and then faces them in a rematch tomorrow down south. The Warriors possibly could clinch their first Western Division title with a sweep, and even a split with the Los Angeles club would not be too damaging.

San Francisco hosts Philadelphia Monday and Wednesday in its final contests.

The Hawks meanwhile host rough Cincinnati tomorrow and then must play on the Royals' court Sunday. Two final games against Detroit could go St. Louis' way, but by that time the Warriors hope it will be too late to matter.

The Warriors broke open a 25-25 tie last night after the first quarter when Wilt Chamberlain tossed in three straight baskets. San Francisco went on to outscore Baltimore, 36-17, in the second stanza and breezed home from there.

N. L. PROBLEMS: JAY AND HOWARD

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National League has 473 pounds of personal problems today.

Actually, the problems belong to Cincinnati's Joey Jay and Frank Howard of the Los Angeles Dodgers, two of the league's biggest men at 228 and 245 pounds, respectively.

Jay, a major pitching flop last season, took his troubles home with him yesterday while Howard, whose power has made him one of baseball's most colorful characters, is preparing to bring his to the world champions' training camp. He still is at home, pondering the possibility of retirement.

When Jay left the Reds' Tampa, Fla., camp, he said he was going home to Cincinnati and planned to return late today.

Involved in the 6-foot-4 right-hander's difficulties apparently are a lease which expires on his home April 1 and his interests in an oil well business in Spencer, W.Va.

Hutchinson denied Jay's request for permission to leave camp and was supported by Reds' owner Bill Dewitt.

The 6-foot-7, 245-pound Howard indicated in a letter to Los Angeles General Manager Buzzie Bavasi that he was through with baseball. However, Howard said at his Green Bay home yesterday he might stay in the game if his problems can be adjusted.

Howard plans to go to the Dodgers' training camp at Vero Beach, Fla., and confer with Bavasi as soon as he clears up personal business. Bavasi said later he wants to meet with Howard and his wife, presumably at Green Bay.

Howard and Bavasi emphasized that money has nothing to do with the situation.

Howard received $22,000 from the Dodgers last season while collecting the fifth and final installment on a $108,000 bonus given him after his graduation from Ohio State.

Bavasi said earlier that Howard had informed him in a letter:

"As you know, I have given this careful consideration and I regret to tell you I have decided to quit baseball.

"I have found that money is not the cure to all ills. I have discussed this with my family and they realize they will have to make sacrifices. But I know they will be much happier with me at home than to have me gone most of the time like I have been."

Howard and his wife, the former Carole Johanski, have four children. Howard is employed in the off-season as public relations representative for a Green Bay firm.

Shaw A Perpetual-Motion Man; Big Boost For Giants Staff

Jack Hanley

PHOENIX — Ever since he joined the Giants Feb. 24 at Casa Grande when spring training camp opened, Bob Shaw has been a busy fellow. That understates Shaw's daily activities. Actually, he looks like a man with a built-in perpetual motion machine. He gives the impression of not having enough time to fulfill the daily quota of work he has assigned himself.

Right now Shaw is in shape to pitch nine innings if Alvin Dark and Larry Jansen would let him. He threw 95 pitches in batting practice three days before he was given the opening Cactus League assignment of three innings and not more than 50 pitches against Cleveland last Saturday.

"I know," said Dark, "that was only half a day's work for Shaw. It sure is good to have a fellow like him setting an example for the younger men in camp. I've never seen Shaw idle for a moment. If he isn't on the mound, he's running. And if he isn't running, he is talking to the young pitchers.

WHEN THE winter deal that brought Shaw from Milwaukee to San Francisco was announced, Dark declared: "He is coming to the right ball club because he likes to work. One good pitcher, like Shaw, can strengthen the whole staff. With Shaw around, Jack Sanford should have a good year. Shaw will be used at every opportunity, as a starter and reliever."

That little speech by the Giant manager made the 30-year-old, 6-2, 200-pound Shaw sound like something special. Any observer watching Shaw these past weeks must acknowledge that Shaw does have a touch of class and a tremendous capacity for work.

"I'VE NEVER had anyone quite like him," said Jansen, the Giant pitching coach, after watching Shaw go through his workout routine the first week of spring enampment. "I thought he got the opening date of the season mixed up, that it was March 14 instead of April 14."

Neither Jansen nor Dark could keep Shaw away from the ball park during the first fortnight. Finally, the manager and coach told Shaw that the old adage of "All work and no play—" contained a bit of wisdom. So Shaw took a holiday last Monday but only after he ran a couple dozen outfield laps in the morning.

"I came to work," said Shaw. "I can't let anybody down, including myself."

SHAW KNOWS all about those 17 games the Giants lost last season despite taking leads into the eighth and ninth innings. But he withheld comment.

However, Sanford, an outspoken fellow, wasn't so reticent. "If we had Shaw in the bullpen last year," said Sanford, "we'd a won at least a dozen of those last 17."

Tryouts for some of the boys in the San Anselmo Little League will be held Sunday at 1 p.m. at San Anselmo's Memorial Park. The tryouts will be for all 10-year-old boys and boys 11 and 12 who are new to the league. They will be for both major and minor leagues.

Celtics Bag Record 8th Title In Row

BOSTON (AP)—The aging, bone-weary but fiercely proud Boston Celtics have an eighth straight division title—unprecedented in professional sports—and are $14,000 richer.

So?

Back to the practice court.

After his team wrapped up the Eastern Division crown with a runaway 140-120 National Basketball Assn. victory over Detroit in Providence, R.I., last night, Coach Red Auerbach:

Admitted it was the second biggest moment in his career and easily the toughest to attain.

Said: "We proved we could lose a great player like Bob Cousy and still get the job done."

Ordered a stiff drill for today to retain sharpness.

The triumph not only clinched the division crown worth $12,000 but also the highest won-lost percentage good for $2,000 and the home court advantage regardless of the playoff opponent.

No NHL Franchise For Bay Area Yet

NEW YORK (UPI)—Los Angeles and San Francisco seemed far from gaining National Hockey League franchises today after league President Clarence Campbell praised the "balance" of the present NHL.

"We have developed a degree of balance in the National Hockey League where the question of expansion is less important than it was earlier," Campbell told members of the New York Hockey Writers Assn. at their weekly luncheon yesterday.

"I predicted three years ago that the NHL had reached its summit in the matter of success," he added. "But I was proved wrong. We keep improving, both from a financial viewpoint and in the matter of attendance."

The prexy of pro hockey's only major league declared that expansion now "could not improve our overall operation one iota."

Referring to recent expansion in major league baseball and pro football, Campbell said he feels that "some of those owners now have grave misgivings that what they did was not in the interest of their sport."

"Before any league considers expansion, such a move should be economically sound," he said. "Los Angeles has a wonderful building for hockey and it's not unreasonable to expect that the people out there could afford to support an NHL team. But for how long? That's the question."

Campbell revealed that NHL teams must gross $1 million a year to break even "and that's a lot of money, even for such large cities as Los Angeles and San Francisco."

The two California cities presently are represented in the Western Hockey League, which is comparable to a double-A minor league in baseball. The teams consist mainly of washed-up National Hockey League players and/or journeymen minor leaguers.

Soltau Leads Pro Football Golf Tourney

PALO ALTO (AP) — Former San Francisco 49er football star Gordon Soltau was slightly embarrassed yesterday when he finished the first day of play in the Professional Football Golf Tournament with a two-under-par 69.

Soltau is the tournament's director and he also is a nine handicapper.

The two-day tournament ends today at the Palo Alto Hills Country Club.

Trailing Soltau by six strokes was Jon Arnett of the Los Angeles Rams. Ernie Nevers, formerly of the St. Louis Cardinals, was third with 76.

Zeke Bratowski of the Green Bay Packers had a 78 card for the day and Matt Hazeltine and Alyn Beals both of the 49ers, shot identical 79s.

LUCKY GOLF TOURNAMENT LOST MONEY

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The 1964 Lucky International Golf Tournament drew more fans than its three predecessors yet still lost lost money.

John Keane, executive director, said ticket sales totaled $81,516, highest ever for a Lucky event, and tournament income was $104,142 after taxes. Expenses were $108,571.

Cash prizes to the competing pros amounted to $57,940. Winner Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez collected $8,825 including $1,325 for the 18-hole playoff he won from Don January, who received $5,325 for his runner-up finish.

President Roy H. Woodman of the Lucky Lager Co., tournament sponsor, said that $10,000 was being donated to the tournament's benefit charity, the Societies for Crippled Children in six Bay Area counties.

New Sailing Group To Hold Regatta

The new Olympic Classes Sailing Assn. will start its 1964 racing program this weekend with a two-day regatta, tomorrow and Sunday.

There will be two races each day in upper San Francisco Bay. Starts and finishes will be off the Richmond breakwater, with starts at 11:10 a.m. and 1:55 p.m. on both days.

The association is confined to the classes that have been officially designated for Olympic Games competition: 5.5 meter, Dragon, Finn, Star and Flying Dutchman. It was organized on the premise that it will stimulate more interest by Bay Area sailors for the Olympic Games schedule in Japan this fall.

The entire program calls for four regattas. The next one will be April 18-19, followed by the third event, May 16-17, and the final one on June 20-21.

More than average interest to the racing gentry will be the performance of the 5.5 class. There are five boats entered and this will mark their first piece of competition, as a class, on the Bay.

Three of the five entries are from the East Bay, while the other two are owned by members of the San Francisco Yacht Club, Gary Falk and Dunstan Gross.

Amazing! Here It Is March And Plenty Of Bass Still In Bay

STEVENS

Bass-wise this has been an amazing year so far. Going over my records covering conditions since 1931, it seems impossible that the local sportsmen are still catching bass in fairly copious quantities in March. For many years the first day of November witnessed an exodus of bass fishermen from the San Pablo areas. The movement was to the back country. Such places as the Antioch sector, the Big Break, Sherman Island, Frank's Tract and the Sacramento River from Emmaton to the Rio Vista Bridge, and the San Joaquin from the Antioch Bridge to the mouth of Three-mile Slough. A graph published by the Department of Fish and Game showed one map titled Block 301. This block includes all of San Pablo Bay west on Point Wilson, apparently it is normal to have only two or three months of good fishing in San Pablo each year, and these months seem to vary each year with the exception of October which is good consistently.

Here it is the month of March and since last July—or even earlier— the striper fishing in the San Pablo Bay hasn't really slowed down at all, while the touted good fishing for big fish in the back country has not materialized for several years now.

WHEN I SAY the San Pablo Bay fishing continues, I mean that while adverse tides and strong winds mitigate against great success at times, the supply of fish appears to be comparatively undiminished. Right now what seems to be a fresh run of stripers has schooled up just off the rocky shore from Ashby Avenue to the Berkeley Pier. Flocks of locals have been doing very good for themselves on the outgoing tide casting from shore. Even trolling that area must be okay. The boat R.S.P. working from Lee Anderson's in Oakland, took limits on Saturday and repeated on Tuesday.

China Camp, as reported in yesterday's column, has been going to town; the Shell Banks and the Pump House areas have paid off for the lads and lassies who leave from the Marin shore spots.

On the Contra Costa side, business is rated very good, with the striper seemingly preferring the sardine over the bullhead.

Also, now, in March, when a few years ago most of the fishing horde neglected the San Pablo Bay, the Napa River, and the Suisun and Honker Bays, it is easy to bring home a fine string of catfish (the Honker Bay region), flounders (practically every shallow region of the San Pablo and the Suisun Bays, as well as the Carquinez Strait), and a nice mess of red-tailed perch (in the lower San Pablo).

NOTE TO embryo hunters under 18 years of age: The law now reads that all persons under 18 (not 16 as formerly) must pass a Hunter Safety Training Course, or have a prior year's California license to obtain a hunting license AFTER JULY 1, 1964.

ONE LAST suggestion: Try for red-tail perch with your lightest tackle, and smallest hooks. You'll be amazed how like a trout the red-tail is in gameness. And that's it for today.

Cal Coaches To Meet Tomorrow

Please, Sir, Hand Me a Nutcracker

Of this I am certain: scientific advancement accomplished to the point of space travel, wonder drugs, and weapons of total destruction, to name but a few, has failed to develop a tool of sufficient strength to penetrate one area. The mind. The closed mind, that is. Even the toughest Brazil nut eventually cracks under pressure of a nutcracker in a strong grip. But, it's still impossible to position a stubborn cranium between the jaws of a cracker.

My rather checkered exposure to life and the oftimes frustrating pursuit of my own private conception of SUCCESS, has conditioned me for almost daily encounters with the closed mind. Each encounter brings with it added frustration, for failure is never palatable. The closed mind is a measure of envy, too, in that I have never enjoyed the luxury of such positive self-assurance that triggers the mind's door closed.

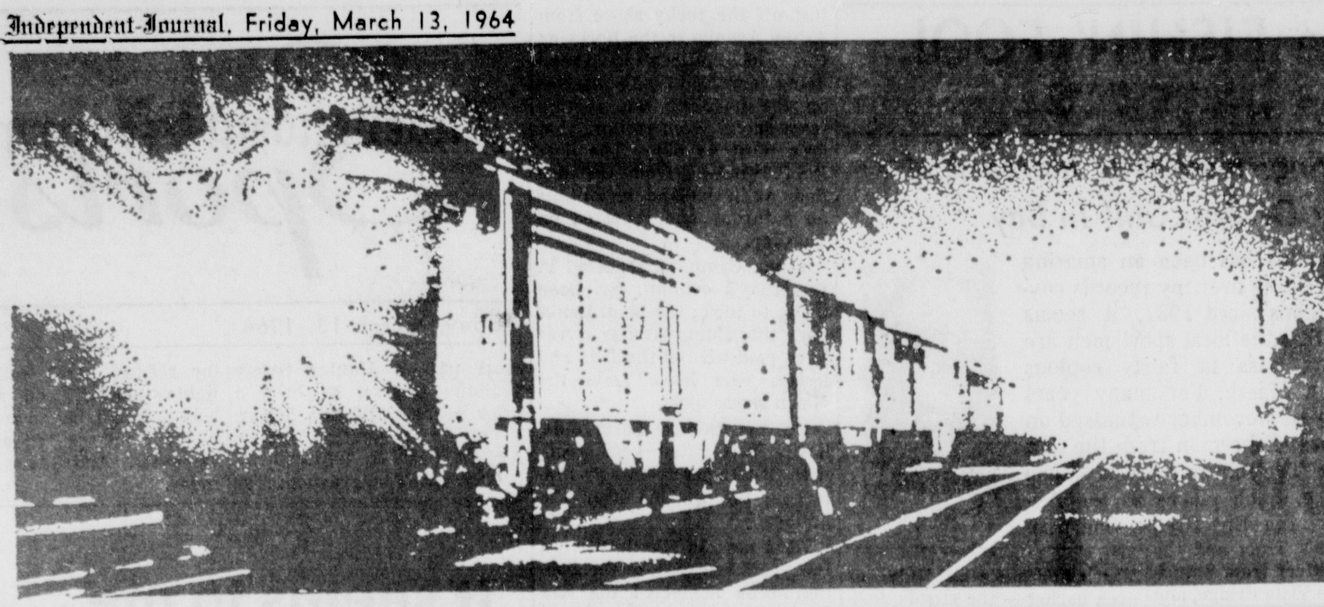

Take some politicians. You're welcome. You know, I think I'd be tempted to cast my vote for the one candidate who displayed enough candor to admit he hadn't yet found the solution to every problem or issue. I might even lean toward the guy who was big enough to agree his opponent was not mentally retarded. The novelty would be so refreshing, it would not anger me to find my man still groping for solutions (as long as he kept trying) and still smiling friendly-like at the opposition, after he was elected.

You know you're headed for another one of these hard-heads in a few years, when Junior confronts you with arms tightly folded, teeth gnashing in determination, and feet stamping to accentuate defiance. My little junior miss tried this tactic many years ago, before the onslaught of countless books on child psychology. So, I had to use my hand. Recalling the incident brings back the tingle I felt for quite some moments. But, if you're in the neighborhood, drop by, and meet my Marilyn, the sweetest un-closed minded girl you ever saw.

I find it restrictive to be limited to only verbal persuasion in trying to cope with the closed mind who insists on buying a car from us at a price below our cost. Particularly, when he abuses logic by asserting that we should be eager to meet his offer, since his friends are legion and loyal, and will most certainly swamp us with more of the same. Think of the volume, man! Gad, how my hand tingles. But, then, he's usually bigger than I am. 'Most everyone is.

Doug Cowan and I take pardonable pride in our ability to satisfy everyone who may have experienced dissatisfaction in his contact with Ames Ford. That is, almost everyone. We haven't enjoyed spectacular success in pleasing the individual too uncooperative to communicate with us, or too unyielding to discuss the problem. We keep trying, though, and we're making quite a bit of progress. Our sales keep increasing, and this must indicate more and more people are happy with us.

Some of our competitors are grousing, though. Grousing, knocking — and imitating. There will never be a nutcracker developed strong enough to work on these characters, however.

FASHIONS FROM YESTERYEAR

Evening gowns of worthy matrons and other members of the Mill Valley Chapter of Eastern Star were fashions from yesteryear featured at their luncheon and style parade yesterday afternoon. Extreme left, Mrs. Marian Andre models the dress her mother, Mrs. Harvey A. Klyce—oldest past matron of the chapter—wore at her installation in 1914. From left the others and the dates of their gowns are Mesdames Charles Lascy, 1926; Leslie Armstrong, 1927; August Oldag, 1929; Eric Johnson, early 1930s; Carl Johnson, early 1940s, and Peter Sutherland, also early 1940s. Explaining the history of the gowns at the show was present worthy matron Mrs. Clayton Hess. (Independent-Journal photos)

The Changing Picture

SISTERS-IN-LAW, Mrs. Eric C. Johnson, left, in a 1930's gown and Miss Karin Johnson in a yellow orlon three-piece knit suit pointed up the changing fashion picture at yesterday afternoon's fashion luncheon. More than 185 women and several men filled the banquet room of the Mill Valley Masonic Temple to capacity.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Bruce Bernhards To Give Big Party Saturday Night

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

It should be a real fun party when Mr. and Mrs. H. Bruce Bernhard entertain tomorrow night at the Meadow Club. They'll serve cocktails and hors d'oeuvers to about 70 friends. The buffet tables will be set on the porch of the clubhouse overlooking the greens. Spring blossoms will be the decorations and a strolling accordionist will play. To liven things up, if they need any more enliving, Bob (Robert M.) Lee, who is coming with his wife, will provide "music" with his wash bucket, drums and cymbals.

Other Marin guests will be Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Cain, Chester Pagelow, Frank Barsocchini, Floyd Gilman, Theodore Schoonmaker, Otto Jacobsen, Gordon Dunn, Robert Greene, Kenneth Hulme, Conrad Abbett, Vincent Sullivan, John O'Neil, Clyde (Steve) Stevens, Andrew Gillespie, Howard McKinley and also the host's brother, Robert (Bob) Bernhard and his wife.

MR. AND MRS. ALLEN ZEISS of Ross have been giving a number of dinner parties. They have divided the guest lists into groups of 20 or more. The first dinner in February was attended by friends, whose particular interest is music. Two weeks later their guests played bridge or dominos after dinner. Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Zeiss, who have a 33-foot cabin cruiser, entertained 22 of their yachting friends at dinner. Most of them they had met on cruises to Steamboat Slough and Tinsley Island in the San Joaquin River. The island is owned by the St. Francis Yacht Club.

Mrs. Zeiss corresponds frequently with Mrs. Paul (Celia) Spengler, formerly of Ross, who now makes her home in Honolulu. Celia organized the Ross General Hospital Volunteers and has been sending "tote" bags for distribution by the volunteers of which Mrs. Zeiss is one.

MR. AND MRS. A. H. DEWEES of San Anselmo, who leave soon for a two and a half months tour of Ross are being honored at a number of farewell parties. While they are away their home will be occupied by their son, David Dewees, and his wife. The senior Mrs. Dewees will be honored at a luncheon March 26 by Mrs. Otto Poehlmann and Mrs. Herman Goldwasser. It is to be held at the Poehlmanns' San Anselmo home that is, if Mrs. Poehlmann's condition is improved. She is now hospitalized with a slipped disc.

JANIS GOLDBAUM, daughter of Mrs. Samuel Goldbaum of San Anselmo, has been named to the academic honors list for her high scholastic achievement during the recently completed semester at Mills College. Freshmen students named to the list must have 3.5 grade point average or higher.

A graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, Janis is a freshman at Mills and is living in Orchard-Meadow Hall on the Mills College campus.

MR. AND MRS. AL (PAPAYA) WILLIAMS have sold their large, handsome home in Belvedere and intend to buy a smaller home in Marin County. They plan to do a lot of traveling in Mexico and the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Clark of Tiburon have bought the Williams' home. Mr. Clark is an architect.

MRS. MERRILL BROWN of Kentfield and Mrs. Robert F. Dagley of Mill Valley, are Marin County chairmen for the annual KQED auction to be held June 1 to June 6. Mrs. Richard Cahill of Belvedere is in charge of soliciting gifts, such unusual ones as stays in famous resorts, trips and cruises. Mrs. Dagley is chairman of Marin County publicity. All donations will be auctioned to telephone bidders during the marathon benefit for the educational television station.

Company Treasures Calculating Females

NEW YORK (AP) — Beauty and electronic brains mix very well at a giant computer company where 1,200 "calculating females" tell the mathematical monsters what to do.

A PRIME example is dark-blonde, blue-eyed Diana Rode, 23, a mathematics major from Pembroke who is a systems engineer for International Business Machines Corp.

Miss Rode, who could easily qualify as a model, has conducted seminars for brain surgeons and worked on physics projects with university professors.

MOST OF the women in IBM technical and professional jobs, such as systems engineers or programmers, are graduates of such schools as Vassar, Carleton College, Barnard, Stanford and Southern Methodist University.

The science of programming has been described as the analyzing of problems and reducing them to sequences which the computer can understand.

For example, suppose a machine must be geared to perform a command like "pass the salt."

IT'S A matter of painstaking detail: Extend right hand over table. Poise right hand over shaker. Close right hand on shaker—and so on, until the operation is completed.

MISS RODE, a native of Bristol, Conn., said Wednesday that in her job it is a matter of knowledge, judgment and "a little bit of feminine intuition."

Dean Of Law To Address Lawyers' Wives

Francis R. Walsh, dean of law at the University of San Francisco, will address the luncheon meeting of Lawyers' Wives of Marin on March 18 at La Petite Auberge in San Rafael. The time is 12:30 p.m.

The subject of Dean Walsh's talk will be "Free Press and Fair Trial."

"Since this is a most timely topic and of great interest to all," said program chairman Mrs. Sterling L. Hiler, "the meeting will be open to guests."

Reservations chairman is Mrs. Lloyd Postel of Ross.

Upholstery Fabrics Are Going Avocado

CHICAGO (UPI) — If you overhear someone predicting that "This year's color is avocado," it isn't necessarily a reference to spring fashions. The decree applies just as easily to upholstery fabrics.

UPHOLSTERY materials now come in a range of colors that rival those in the dressmaking industry.

In a year's study of the developing appetite for more daring colors for chairs and sofas, Selig Manufacturing Co., found that women have become much bolder in choosing colors that have a gleam and a glow. The company found that there also is a much greater desire for smartly printed fabrics.

AS RECENTLY as 1961, which was a good sales year in the furniture business, almost one third of Selig's upholstered furniture came in nondescript char-brown colors.

In 1962, the popular colors were in the blue family. Peacock, tile and sapphire were the shades most frequently selected.

LAST YEAR saw a new interest in avocado and moss along with the warm accent shades of tangerine and marigold. The many new ways of combining these shades have placed them in the forefront.

This year's sofas are likely to be enveloped in tweed, with color mixtures for heightened brilliance.

The increase in brilliantly colored upholstery fabrics matches this year's color explosion in rugs and carpeting.

INTERIOR designers now say that the so-called neutral colors of beige and off-white constitute a dull room design. They recommend bold splashes of color, but say it should be used with a discerning touch.

Bold colors are necessary for accent but today the accent can be in a brightly colored upholstered chair rather than the conventional throw pillow or ashtray.

Marin MAGAZINE

Bright reading for the whole week

Featured this Saturday:

Lots of Marinites have pet cats — but 235-pound ones are scarce. The list of such pets probably begins and ends with just one name — Seba. After eight years of residence in the Al Bottleson home, Seba now lives in the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum. Marin Magazine editor Don Keown writes about Seba in tomorrow's issue of the weekly I-J supplement.

There's no shortage of artistic talents in Marin. But even among the county's hundreds of professional and amateur artists, Stan Petersen is unique. That's because he paints — and sells — watercolors of, not landscapes or portraits, but automobiles. How he got into this unusual specialty is the subject of a special feature in the I-J Marin Magazine tomorrow.

The new spring books are pouring into Marin bookstores. And one of the best ways to "preview" those books is to read the book pages of the Marin Magazine. For instance, tomorrow's magazine wil' carry reviews of such important books as Max Rafferty's "What They Are Doing to Your Children," J. W. Ehrlich's "A Reasonable Doubt," and Vance Packard's "The Naked Society."

Marin's own magazine . . . picturing and reporting life in Marin today . . . personalities, recreation, coming events, book reviews, gardening, music, home improvement, weekly TV log. A week of good reading. Look for it, Saturdays.

The photographs will show whether the line, laid in 1948, needs replacing in any section.

Voter Registration Deadline Set April 9

April 9 is deadline for voter registration for the June 2 primary elections, the Marin County Clerk's office reminded today.

County Clerk George Gnoss said 1964 registration thus far has been normal for an off-gubernatorial or presidential election year, and that 5,289 persons had registered as of the latest tally.

This, he said, compares with 5,114 at close of 1963 and 5,892 for the previous year, a gubernatorial election year. Gnoss added, however, that he expects this year's total registration to surpass that of 1962 by the Nov. 3 general election date, with registration deadline Sept. 10.

Gnoss said ratio of registration this year with the influx of population is normal. A one-year residency requirement before registering has restricted a much higher count, he added.

Public Land Law Review Unit Backed By Clausen

Rep. Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) today announced his vote in favor of establishing a public land law review commission as a "great step forward" toward "proper and orderly development of our lands."

Clausen, in remarks to the House of Representatives, proposed that one of the first items for study by the commission be an "in lieu" tax payment by the federal government to local governments for lands taken off the tax rolls.

The bill to create the commission (H.R. 8070) was passed by the House of Representatives by a 339-29 vote last week.

"In keeping with good conservation practices," the congressman said, "it is necessary to retain certain lands in public ownership.

"However, the Congress should recognize its responsibility by making a payment in lieu of taxes for lands owned within the boundaries of a local political subdivision.

"This payment to a school district or county would go far toward broadening the income base and at the same time promote conservation programs so urgently needed to preserve certain aesthetic values throughout our great nation."

Air Crash Site Will Be Guarded Around Clock

MINDEN, Nev. (AP)—Guards will be posted around the clock at the site of the Paradise Airlines crash on an 8,700-foot Sierra ridge until deep snow melts this spring, the Douglas County sheriff's office said yesterday.

The Civil Aeronautics Board will hire special guards to prevent any disturbance of wreckage that remains of the Constellation in which 85 persons died March 1.

About 35 men plan to search the area Sunday for the body of Mrs. Jack J. Roberts of San Jose, despite bad weather.

Nine volunteers searched Wednesday, but could not find her body. Bodies of the other 84 victims have been recovered, identified and turned over to families.

Two San Rafael Sixth Grades Get TV Merits

Sixth-grade classes at John MacPhail and Gallinas schools in San Rafael have been named merit award winners for projects submitted to the educational television program, "Exploring the News," broadcast over KQED each Friday at 9:15 a.m.

The two schools were the first in the district to submit entries and both were announced as winners by Ed Radenzel, foreign news editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, who has presented the news program for children for four years.

According to Mrs. Dorothy Wall, sixth-grade teacher at MacPhail, the 25 students there prepared a book, titled "Instruments for Peace," exploring steps employed by the United States to improve international relations.

Gallinas sixth-graders examined "Africa in the News" under the guidance of teacher Neil MacPhail.

Today is Friday, March 13, the 73rd day of 1964 with 293 to follow.

The moon is new. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

Those born today include Joseph Priestly, British scientist who discovered oxygen, in 1733.

On this day in history:

In 1868, impeachment proceedings against President Andrew Johnson got under way in the Senate. He was acquitted by one vote on May 26 of the same year.

In 1933, banks throughout the United States began to open following the "bank holiday" proclaimed on March 3 by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In 1938 several prominent Communist leaders were found guilty of treason during one of the great "purges" in the Soviet Union.

In 1962, a 4.9-billion-dollar foreign aid bill was sent to Congress.

A thought for the day — Author Thomas Paine once said: "Society in every state is a blessing, but government, even in its best state, is but a necessary evil . . . in its worst state, and intolerable one."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Screen Star's Compliment Produces Only Wry Smile

Gilbert Roland plays heavies as well as heroes on the screen, but at the bridge table he has only pleasant words for partner and opponents.

He manages to make you feel happy even when he has just done you in the eye.

East-West vulnerable

	NORTH ♠ A Q 5 ♡ 7 5 2 ◇ K 7 ♣ A Q J 8 5
WEST ♠ 10 8 4 2 ♡ None ◇ Q J 6 5 3 2 ♣ 7 6 3		EAST ♠ K J 7 ♡ A K 4 ◇ A 10 9 8 4 ♣ K 2

North	East	South	West
1 NT	Double	4 ♡	Pass
Pass	Double	All Pass

Opening lead — ◇ Q

The other day, for example, Roland jumped to four hearts on the South hand.

TRIFLE EMPHATIC

My double with the East cards was perhaps a trifle emphatic. Roland has taught me quite a bit about what to look for in a bullfight, and I expected to show him what to look for at the bridge table.

West opened the queen of diamonds, and Roland ruffed. I was now willing to call the hand off. I would gladly give up the cheese if I could just get out of the mousetrap.

Declarer led the queen of hearts to my king, and I happened to make the correct return. (Otherwise, perhaps, this hand would never see the light of day.)

SETTING TRICK?

As you can see, East can expect to win two hearts and a club. Where is the setting trick? The only chance is to develop a spade trick, so East should return the seven of spades without delay.

Fortunately, West had the ten of spades and could force out dummy's queen. Declarer led another trump, and back came the king of spades to knock out dummy's ace.

Roland drew trumps and tried the club finesse, losing to the king. The spade trick then defeated the contract. If we hadn't been ready to cash a spade at this time Roland would have discarded two spade losers on dummy's clubs.

'BRILLIANT DEFENSE'

"A brilliant defense," Roland remarked warmly. It was very sporting of him to say so; most other declarers would just look glum at being defeated.

All I could do was smile wryly because Roland's fine bid had picked up all the marbles. But for his energetic bidding we could have won the rubber by bidding and making five diamonds.

Quietly and modestly, Roland had managed to steal the scene.

QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ A 9 8 4 3
♥ 10 9 5 3
♦ K 7
♣ 5 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two hearts.

If you bid one spade, you will have to show the heart support also, yet the hand is really worth only one unforced response. When you have the values for only one response, raise your partner's major suit.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Women Of Ancient China So Modest They Never Permitted Examination

VAN DELLEN

The women of ancient China were so modest they never permitted examination by a physician. Only relatives were allowed to see a sick woman of high rank and diagnosis was a long distance affair.

Credit for this custom was given to modesty but in all probability the additional information obtained through a physical checkup meant little to these early healers. As a result, it was deemed unnecessary by all concerned.

A SMALL ivory statuette, called the doctor's lady, took the place of an examination. The patient, fully dressed, marked the figure or pointed to the place it hurt. The medico then felt her pulse and, from this meager information, usually prescribed the remedy. The Chinese doctor often carried the figure with him and asked the sick woman to mark the site of her pain with India ink. The statuette was sent to his home or laboratory.

The practice, according to Surgery, Gynecology and Obstetrics, was retained in China until the beginning of this century. Victorian England followed a similar custom, except that the patient pointed out the location of her distress on a doll instead of on an ivory figure.

THE LITTLE figures usually are naked except for miniature shoes of the type used for bound feet. The majority are four to eight inches in length and are beautifully carved. The lady usually is lying on one side with a hand under the head; some wear earrings, and many hold a flower in the hand.

In our day, electronic devices and machines are making obsolete our conventional methods of diagnosis. The stethoscope and blood pressure machine may become as dated as the Chinese statuette. Nowadays, a dozen different tests can be made from a drop of blood, using micro technics. It is possible to hook up patients to an electronic device at home or in the office and relay the data to a medico by phone. Perhaps the physician can be dispensed with by feeding the material into a diagnostic computer.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

STRESS AND ULCER

E. F. S. writes: What could possibly cause ulcer in a child of 10?

REPLY

The same as in adults. Many of these children are hyper-reactors to ordinary stress and secrete two or three times as much acid as the normal child would in similar circumstances. Others are nervous, tense, or suffer from anxiety.

SLOW MOTION

J. K. writes: What is it in a person of 25 that makes him move slowly in everything he does?

REPLY

A neurological condition or a thyroid deficiency is suspected if he was peppy before and now moves at a snail's pace. Otherwise, the characteristic may be inherent.

WAKEFUL BABY

A. Y. writes: Why should a healthy 9-month-old baby awaken three or four times at night?

REPLY

This is normal but check to find out whether the infant is cold or otherwise uncomfortable. Increase the day feedings to avoid night hunger.

SPREAD OF CANCER

M. O. writes: Can cancer be transmitted from animal to man?

REPLY

Cancer is not contagious. But experiments have been done in which tumors were transplanted in the laboratory from humans to animals.

Today's Health Hint—Quackery steals precious time and often makes the difference between life and death.

Audubon Center Is Elevated

The Richardson Bay Audubon Sanctuary, recently expanded with a year-round staff, has been designated as the Audubon Center of Northern California.

Staff members are John Larson, manager, and instructors Henry A. Houghton and Lynn Stafford.

Formerly open only during waterbirds' winter lay-over on Richardson Bay, the center will now be open all year, offering lectures and tours to visitors. The center is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays. Appointments for group tours should be made in advance.

Intoxicated Driver Given $166 Fine

Robert N. Pedrick, 35, of 280 Redwood Road, San Anselmo, was fined $166 and placed on six months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

He was arrested March 4 by San Rafael police.

The legendary Trojan War ended in 1884 B.C. when Troy fell to the Greeks after a 10-year siege.

No Comment On Dean's Charge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Glenn S. Dumke, chancellor of California's state colleges, said yesterday he would have no comment on charges by Robert R. Smith that Dumke is "running scared before an aggressive and misguided state college board of trustees."

Smith resigned as San Francisco State Colleges' dean of education Wednesday in protest against the policies of the trustees, who he said are "softly closing one door after another to the youth and adults of the state."

Marin Museum Assn. Officers Elected

Mrs. Edward B. Hayden last night was elected acting chairman of the newly formed Marin Museum Assn. Mrs. Lottie McWatters was named acting co-chairman, and William W. Kirsh was selected acting secretary.

Members of the association spent most of the meeting trying to arrive at a statement of goals, and decided that each officer would submit a proposed statement at the next meeting, March 26, at which a vote would be taken.

How to save for a rainy day— and help your country now

Someday, sometime, you may have an emergency which will affect the future of your family. It will be comforting to you to know that you have a fund standing by to help you meet that emergency.

In a sense, such an emergency exists now that your country has to meet. It comes up every day—here and all over the world. The emergency of keeping peace and standing up for freedom.

You can help meet both these needs with U.S. Savings Bonds. Your money in Bonds grows steadily to help you provide for college, a new home, an unexpected illness. And as the money grows, your country uses it to help protect our freedom.

Americans are holding $47 billion in Savings Bonds—for rainy days, and sunny days, too. Why not join them? Start buying Bonds now, and see if you don't feel pretty good about the whole thing.

It's easy to buy Savings Bonds on the Payroll Plan where you work. A $50 Bond costs $37.50, a $25 Bond $18.75, and you can buy them in installments for a few dollars a week. Or buy them outright at any bank. No charge for the service.

Some nice things about Series E Bonds
- You get 33⅓% more money when they mature
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen
- You can get your money when you need it
- You pay no state or local tax and can defer the federal tax until the Bonds are cashed

Keep freedom in your future with

MARIN FILM FARE

Former Marinite's Thriller Now Movie

By LES DARD

Here's what's doing on Marin County movie screens this weekend:

FAIRFAX THEATER

Former Marin author John Trinian's thriller about a perfect holdup has been turned into a gripping suspense film by French movie-makers.

"Any Number Can Win," directed by the brilliant Henri Verneuil, is now showing. It stars Jean Gabin and Alain Delon.

Gabin plays a two-time loser dedicated to the proposition that crime must pay if you keep at it long enough. He sets his sights on a billion francs in the seemingly impregnable Palm Beach Casino in Cannes, and picks Delon as his partner.

The crime is on a tight schedule, and tension mounts as Delon crawls through air ducts and down elevator shafts to reach the vault.

RAFAEL THEATER

At long last Marin gets to see "the V. I. P.s," come Sunday.

We've all heard too much about the non-movie activities of Liz Taylor and Richard Burton. But it would be unwise to let that discourage you from seeing this fine film.

Author Terrence Rattigan takes us into the plush V. I. P. reception room at London airport, introduces us to a handful of well-heeled passengers headed out on the next jet to New York. Then he grounds the plane, with the help of fog.

Liz plays a shipping magnate's wife who is running away with gigolo Louis Jordan. Burton is superb as the husband dazed by the discovery.

Orson Welles as a Swiss-based movie director and Rod Taylor as an Australian wheeler-dealer are both memorable, and Margaret Rutherford as a destitute duchess is a delightful show-stealer.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

America's image in Southeast Asia is critically drawn in "The Ugly American," now showing.

Marlon Brando plays a new American ambassador to a fictional country. Upon arrival he finds the country mopping up a revolution. His problem is to tell the good guys from the bad guys, whom to trust and whom not to, what is accepted and what isn't.

A propagandizing Russian ambassador, a Communist leader and a bumbling U. S. senator make his job rough.

Co-featured is "Gathering of Eagles."

NOVATO THEATER

Arriving Sunday is a good double bill headed by "Love With a Proper Stranger," which stars Natalie Wood and Steve McQueen.

Roughly classed as a comedy, the film is rowdy, funny, romantic and sometimes truly touching. It concerns a popular subject these days, illicit love and its consequences.

"Who's Been Sleeping in My Bed?" is another adult bedtime story, a spoof starring Dean Martin.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Anyone who has sent a daughter off to college will find moments that hit home in "Take Her, She's Mine," due Sunday.

The film, like its Broadway predecessor, deals with a doting father's agonies as his newly-colleged girlchild goes through free-thinking, beatniking, crusading and a fling as an art student in Paris.

It's fun because the daughter—Sandra Dee—usually is in complete control of the situation but Daddy—that's Jimmy Stewart—finds himself in all manner of scrapes not of his making.

LARK THEATER

Marcello Mastroianni, Anouk Aimee, Claudia Cardinale and Sandra Milo star in "8½," film autobiography by noted Italian director Federico Fellini. It's held over for a second week.

A weary director seeks rejuvenation at a spa outside Rome. Instead, his troubles follow him as he is hounded by sycophants and job-seekers.

Taking refuge in dreams, he relives memorable episodes of his life. He recalls a youthful sojourn with a grotesque prostitute. Again he imagines himself a harem-master, and then he dreams up the hanging of a critic.

Complicated, but Fellini keeps the story line sharp and clear.

101 DRIVE-IN

Two Jerry Lewis spoofs now showing:

In "Don't Give Up the Ship" Jerry plays an ex-naval officer who is dragged away from his wedding and accused of misplacing an entire destroyer. The Navy claims it has been unable to find the vessel since the war and Congress is demanding an accounting.

Jerry gets told either to find the ship, or come up with five million dollars.

In "Rock-a-Bye Baby" Jerry plays an old flame of Marilyn Maxwell. After a brief fling with a bullfighter, Marilyn dumps her triplets on the unsuspecting Jerry. He spends the rest of the film playing Papa.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

The gripping story of an attempted military coup in Washington in 1974 is told in "Seven Days in May," a film every American owes it to himself to see.

It's held over at San Anselmo.

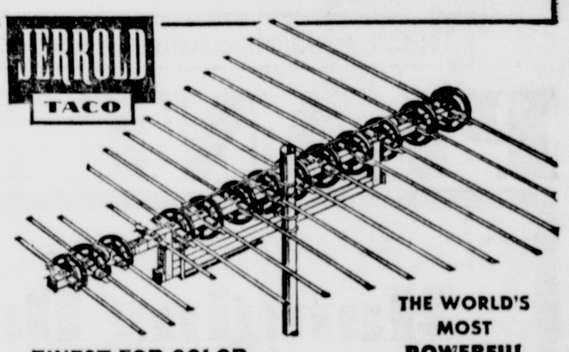

Frederic March stars as an idealistic president who signs an agreement with Russia for nuclear disarmament. The peace-making action proves unpopular, particularly with the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Air Force Gen. Burt Lancaster.

Kirk Douglas plays a Marine colonel, aide to Lancaster.

By the 17th Century, improved firepower could penetrate three-eights of an inch of steel and thus armor lost some of its usefulness.
